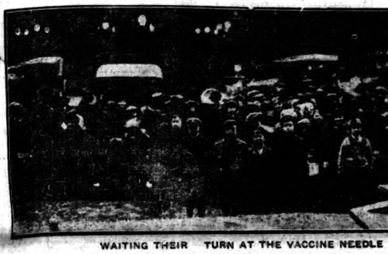
HAMILTON WENT INTO HONOR CLASS LAST NIGHT



WAITING THEIR TURN AT THE VACCINE NEEDLE AT TORONTO.

LENINE MAKES THREAT AT OPERATIONS TOWARD INDIA

Tells Turkestan Reds of "Struggle Against Imperialism, Headed by Britain"

Esthonians Talk Peace With Bolsheviki--- Heavy Loss to Kolchak Reported

(A. P. Special Cable.)

London, Nov. 13.—Nicolai Lenine, the Russian Bolshevik Premier, has sent a letter to Turkestan Communists, in which he says that the restoration of communication between Bolshevist Russia and Turkestan "opens the way for a struggle against universal imperialism, headed by Great Britain."

The message is interpreted here as a hint at operations in the direction of British India.

ESTHONIAN-BOLSHEVIK PARLEYS

Helsingfors, Nov. 13.—Peace negotiations between the Esthonians and the Bolsheviki will begin Saturday, it was announced here to-day. The Lithuanians will not participate in the negotiations.

Allied officials attended an informal independence celebration at the Opera House Tuesday.

KOLCAHK'S HEAVY LOSS.

London, Nov. 13.—Between Nov. 3 and Nov. 10, according to a wireless message received here, the reds captured four entire regiments of Admiral Kolchak's troops and two divisional staffs. The message says all officers who refused to surrender were shot by their own soldiers.

INVITED BERMONDT TO PARLEY.

London, Nov. 13.—The Inter-Allied commission to the Baltic States, at its first sitting at Koenigsberg, it is learned here, invited Col. Avaloff-Bermondt's chief of staff and the commanders of independent attachments to attend discussions at Tilsit. The commission has promised the officers safe conduct.

GRAVE FRICTION BETWEEN THE DUTCH AND BELGIANS

Alarmist Reports Hint at Possible Rupture of Diplomatic Relations.

(A. P. Special Cable.)

Paris, Nov. 13.—(By the Associated Press)— Alarmist reports of high tension, and possible rupture of diplomatic relations, between Belgium and Holland, which have been current for the past five days in Brussels and in diplomatic and Peace Conference circles here, have their source in the interior politics of Belgium, and are fostered by the political party favoring an energetic policy toward Holland, according to a member of the Belgian peace delegation at Paris.

Recurrence of these reports, which have sprung up from time to time, the Belgian says, has been caused by the flag burning incident at Breskens, where Dutch sailors hauled down the Belgian flag, trampled and burned it, and also by the sinking of the Belgian yacht Java in Breuwershaven harbor by a few drunken rowdies

Very Reasonable

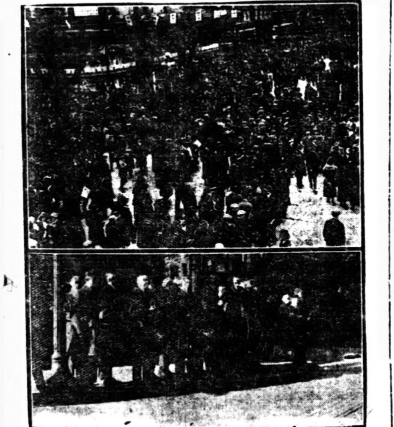
Keiller's Imported Scotch Marmalade, in four pound tins, made from Seville oranges and best white sugar, nothing else. Undoubtedly the best of imported marmalade. The price is one dollar and twenty-five cents. Don't you think you ought to secure a few tins, before it's all sold. Think of the price of butter, compared with marmalade.—A. G. Bain & Co.



NOVEMBER 11TH THIS YEAR AND A YEAR AGO IN TORONTO.

Silence, deep silence, for two minutes was the commemoration of Armistice Day on downtown Toronto streets, in marked contrast to the incessant noise of a year ago. The upper picture shows the scene at Queen and Yonge streets last year. The lower one shows the two-minute silence being observed at the corner of King and Yonge street at 11 a.m., on Tuesday.

HARRY MILLS,
Fort William, Labor's choice for Minister of Mines in the Drury Cabinet.

LOCAL LABOR IS SATISFIED

With the Selections for the Cabinet.

Hear That Dr. Cody Will Retain His Seat.

Labor has no criticism to offer as to the choice of Premier Drury of his cabinet. Walter Rollo, M. P. P., has been chosen as Minister of Labor, which not only met the approval of the Labor element, but is also received with satisfaction throughout the province by all parties. Mr. Rollo is acknowledged to be thoroughly conversant with labor conditions, and possesses a knowledge of the needs of labor which eminently fits him for the portfolio he will assume.

Labor leaders interviewed feel that the interests of the Labor Party could not have been placed in more safe hands. Especially at this stage of reconstruction and general unrest it is felt that the presence of such a strong personality as that with which the new Minister of Labor is endowed will make more towards industrial peace in Ontario than any other influence that could be introduced into the Government.

H. Mills, M.P.P., of Fort William, is the other Labor member with a cabinet portfolio, that of Minister of Mines. It was thought that possibly Mr. Mills would be chosen as Minister of Education on account of his experience in educational matters. Mr. Mills is an exceptionally alert and intelligent man. He has served his home city well on the Board of Education. Labor also feels that in Mr. Mills they have a strong and representative man.

Walter Rollo, M. P. P., when interviewed by the Times this morning, stated that he was satisfied that the [illegible] material available had been chosen for the cabinet. He stated that he was aware that many of the men are untried, but that they had been chosen on records of past achievements allied to the positions they will fill.

"It is too early at this stage to make predictions," stated Mr. Rollo, "but there is every reason to believe that the men chosen have the mental capacity to grapple earnestly and intelligently with the big problems that are before them. If it should happen that any one of the new cabinet does not measure up to the position there may be readjustments."

Asked as to the future of the Hon. H. J. Cody, the ex-Minister of Education, Mr. Rollo stated that it is rumored in Governmental circles in Toronto that he will retain his seat in parliament, having been returned by acclamation.

Two More Days To Buy Bonds

Jack Canuck has made the grade. Hamilton has reached and passed its original objective of 13 millions by over 265 thousands. Eleven thousand persons up to last night had subscribed to this loan. Close on to a million dollars was collected yesterday, the five teams getting about 300 thousand and the employees of the various industries, stores, offices, etc., piling up another 320 thousand. It was the employees who saved the day. They it is on whom campaign officials pin the most faith that Hamilton will attain the 18-million mark between now and Saturday night. All of the teams, but one, have greatly exceeded their objective by over $500,000. From all sources the organization has exceeded its objective and reached 102.04 per cent. With but two more days to go, only the small buyers and the employees can pile up 18 or 19 millions for Hamilton. And headquarter officials believe they will do it.

The summary follows:

| District. | Wednesday. | Apps. | Total | Apps. | Per cent. Objective. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| A ... ... ... ... | $ 32,450 | 60 | $ 800,400 | 1,199 | 86.82 |
| B ... ... ... ... | 104,550 | 156 | 1,644,450 | 1,935 | 132.20 |
| C ... ... ... ... | 67,200 | 122 | 711,500 | 1,598 | 102.66 |
| D ... ... ... ... | 29,450 | 90 | 670,200 | 1,226 | 124.10 |
| E ... ... ... ... | 70,200 | 71 | 582,300 | 842 | 120.10 |
| Total ... ... | $303,850 | 499 | $ 4,408,850 | 6,800 | 113.05 |
| Employees ... .. | 329,650 | 2,153 | 385,650 | 2,538 | ..... |
| Special ... ..... | 268,000 | 2 | 7,519,000 | 74 | 115.67 |
| Banks ... ... ... | 86,250 | 178 | 952,200 | 1,589 | ..... |
| Total ... ... | $987,750 | 2,832 | $13,265,700 | 11,001 | 102 [illegible] |

The returns that will come in from the employees during the next couple of days will rapidly swell Hamilton's total by at least three or four millions, and when the campaign closes on Saturday night the person who does not have a Victory bond will be an exception.

To-night's programme at the war trophy exhibit in the armories will be well worth hearing, as the Elgar choir, under the direction of Bruce Carey, will sing; Grace Miller and Sam Berry will give Scotch songs and dances. Be sure and go next door in the old armory and see the Soldiers' Vocational Training exhibit. And then double up and buy more Victory bonds.

PRESNAIL WAS COMMITTED ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Married Two Months Ago With His First Wife Still Living.

FINE OF $100

On Man Who Represented Himself to Be Policeman.

Fred Presnail, committed for trial yesterday morning in police court, was this morning committed on another charge, bigamy, in that he did on the 13th day of September, 1919, marry Frances West, he previously having been married in Toronto. The second wife gave evidence that after she was married to Presnail, he told her that he had been married previously, but the last he had heard of his former wife was in the states, where she was living with another man. Rev. Henry Roche testified that he had married the two by license on the date stated. Frederick Jelfs' testimony was to the effect that he was present, about 1906, in Toronto, when Presnail was married for the first time, and a certificate from the Registrar General was exhibited in court, proving this statement.

A fine of $200 was imposed on Mary Olshefski, who was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Smith on Sherman avenue, north, for having liquor in her possession. The defendant stated that the liquor had been given to her by a man named Nickolas, for her husband, who was sick, and that this man left for the United States last evening. "That's an old excuse in a new form, and I don't believe a word she says," was the expression of the Magistrate's thoughts when he imposed the fine.

Alex. Massecar, charged with neglecting to supply the necessaries of life for his wife and family, was allowed to go on the request of his wife, who said, "If you will let him go, and he will come home and look after us, I don't want anything done to him." If he repeats the offence he will be rearrested and sentenced for this offence.

Alexander Torlink, remanded several days ago on a charge of impersonating a police officer, was this morning sentenced to a fine of $100 and three months' imprisonment. He was committed for trial three days ago on a charge of assault and robbery. The complainant in the impersonation case was Victoria Dernisky.

The case against John Proudfoot, proprietor of the Central Garage, Catharine street north, charged with assault by a former employee, Sid Stevens, was dismissed. Stevens was ordered from the garage because of the language he used towards his employer, who had picked him up on the street in a ragged condition, and gave him a job as mechanic, was very bad. According to the evidence, the hitting in the assault was done by Stevens, and not by his employer.

As complainant and defendant failed to appear, the assault charge against Steve Woekesdin, 29 Imperial street, preferred by Metro Mike, was laid over for one day.

The Hamilton Gas Company was allowed to go on a charge of neglecting to have a red light on an excavation. A representative of the company stated that three successive nights the lanterns placed on the excavation were stolen.

How woefully the world doth wear us down, while Time, the robber, steals away our jewels of enthusiasm.—George Molmeme.

MRS. W. E. SANFORD,
President of the National Council of Women, who read a message from Queen Mary at the executive meeting yesterday and gave a reception at Wesanford last night in honor of the delegates.

LEAVING GRAND

Popular Local Manager Retires This Week.

After a connection of twenty years with the Grand Opera House, during the past six years of which he has been local manager, Mr. Alf. Strowger is severing his connection with the Grand this week. As was announced some time ago the Grand becomes one of the houses of a new syndicate which is to control a circuit of theatres of that standard from the Atlantic to the Pacific, under the management of Mr. George Driscoll, who was first manager of the Temple, in this city.

Mr. Strowger has been a popular and able manager and all Hamilton people will wish "Allie" well. It is likely that his new duties will keep him in this city.

It is understood that Mr. Webb is coming here to manage the theatre for the syndicate.

DEATH ENDS THEIR FLIGHT

(A. P. Special Cable.)

London, Nov. 13.— Lieut. R. M. Douglas, of the Australian Flying Corps, and Lieut. J. S. L. Ross, his navigator, who started from Hounslow this morning for a flight to Australia, were killed shortly after they began their journey, when their airplane crashed near Surbiton, in Surrey.

Above is a view of the building, which the comfort o the lounge room can be judged from the lower picture.

Upper Silesia is Against Germany

(A. P. Special Cable.)

Paris, No. 13.—First reports on the municipal elections in Upper Silesia to reach Paris show the Poles obtained 75 per cent. of the votes cast, and say that the Germans themselves admit defeat.

The Pan-German organ of Upper Silesia, Katowitzer Zeitung, comments: "Upper Silesia is lost to us."

Polish organs express the hope that the Entente will consider the municipal elections, which were organized by the Germans, as final, and that a plebiscite is now unnecessary, Polish opinion expressing itself in spite of what the newspapers term "unsatisfactory voting conditions."

SUPREME COUNCIL PLANS STIFF NOTE TO ROUMANIA

Does Not Consider Upper Silesia Elections as Decisive.

(A. P. Special Cable.)

Paris, Nov. 13.—The Supreme Council to-day discussed the note to be sent to Roumania, in response to Roumania's recent note. The Allied reply, it is forecasted, will be very firm in tone, the Roumanian note being regarded as evasive and unsatisfactory —notably so as concerned the demand for the evacuation of Hungary by the Roumanians. The Allied note was not completed to-day, but it will be put into shape very shortly, and forwarded to Bucharest within two days.

The report received from Sir George Clark, the Allied commissioner to Budapest, was considered as showing that political conditions in Hungary were much improved, and that there were indications of a coalition Government being organized shortly in Budapest with which the Peace Conference could deal.

Another subject taken up by the Council was the elections recently held in Silesia. A note to Germany was framed, advising it to disregard these elections. A note was also sent to Germany warning the Berlin Government that the sale of German aviation material is a violation of the armistice, and will not be tolerated.

The municipal elections in Upper Silesia, it has been shown by other despatches, were heavily in favor of the Poles, giving rise to expression of hope in Polish quarters that the Allies would regard them as showing the sentiment of the district and as obviating the necessity for a plebiscite to determine whether the region should go to Poland or remain German.

McDowell, V.C., D.S.O., who was made a Master of Arts. The other degree awarded was Master of Household Science to Matron-in-Chief, Miss E. C. Rayside, R.R.C.

LOAN NOW OVER $400,000,000

Incomplete Returns at Noon Showed $392,212,788.

Special Subscriptions Far Over the Top.

(Canadian Press Wire.)

Toronto, Nov. 12.—When all the subscriptions to the Victory Loan up to noon to-day are received it will be found that the four hundred million mark has been passed.

At noon to-day the amount was $392,212,788. This was exclusive of reports for Monday and Tuesday from Alberta and New Brunswick, and for Tuesday from British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

The latest returns from the provinces are as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| British Columbia | $19,244,348 |
| Alberta | 8,361,090 |
| Saskatchewan | 7,835,050 |
| Manitoba | 21,364,800 |
| Ontario (including Toronto) | 219,224,050 |
| Quebec (including Montreal) | 36,533,850 |
| New Brunswick | 6,320,650 |
| Nova Scotia | 12,466,100 |
| Prince Edward Island | 1,042,850 |

Of the sixteen divisions into which Ontario has been divided for the Victory Loan campaign, eleven are now over their special subscriptions objective, the entire province having 126 per cent. of its big objective.

Thames-Grand leads the divisions, having 169 per cent., with the north country a close second.

Of the units, Temiskaming has the enormous percentage of 275 of its objective.

London leads the cities.

M.S.A. CASE

Ancaster Man Before Dundas Magistrate.

It is some time since Inspector Parke of the Dominion police was in this district but he signalled his return this morning by having Walter Sheben, of Ancaster, before Magistrate Fry, in Dundas Police Court. Sheben was charged with not having answered his call for military service. The case was a somewat complicated one as Sheben stated that he had not received his call. Mrs. Thompson, the post mistress, was a witness in the case and said that Sheben, who was working for a farmer at Ancaster, had been used to getting his mail with the farmer's. Sheben was let go on suspended sentence.

IN FORCE HERE

Cannot Buy a Revolver Without Permit.

"All this talk about the new law regarding fire arms and dangerous weapons amongst the foreigners, seems to be merely some political bunkum," said Chief of Police Whatley, this morning, in connection with the report which have been circulated the last couple of days, about the efforts of the provincial police to take steps against the sale of arms and ammunition to foreigners. Superintendent of Provincial Police Rogers has inaugurated a compaign for the seizure of dangerous weapons found in the possession of foreigners, and has asked the co-operation of the police in all parts of Ontario. "Why, that law has been enforced here for two years, and ever since before the war the only way to buy a pistol or revolver was with a permit from me or the magistrate."

WILL FOLLOW UP

Gratuity Matter Will Be Further Pushed.

The G. W. V. A. and other local soldier organizations intend to follow up their gratuity demonstration of last week, and, by means of further resolutions, interest among the membership will be kept up. The G. W. V. A. has assumed leadership of the movement because of precedence and size. It is the oldest of the organizations, and has a good deal of power, besides the largest membership. That the soldier organizations are affiliated because of their stand together on the gratuity question was given as only a temporary necessity, not a permanent possibility.

"All returned men must stand together on this thing, and that is why the organizations are operating together," said a returned soldier this morning.

G.W.V.A. CLUB

Stock Will Soon Be On the Market.

Stock in the new G. W. V. A. Clubhouse Company is likely to be placed on the market in the very near future. The plan of Central Branch to obtain new headquarters and a general meeting place has attracted the attention of the members of the organization, and a demand has been created for information upon the subject, which will prove interesting to those who contemplate sharing the G. W. V. A. management. The controlling stock, is of course, to be retained by the joint executive of the G. W. V. A., which is now completing the plans to float the company. Stock will be placed on sale on a good basis, and those in charge look to a successful outcome of the scheme.

SEELY IN OPPOSITION.

London, Nov. 12.—Major-General John E. B. Seely, whose resignation as head of the Air Ministry was announced yesterday, took his seat on the Opposition bench in the House of Commons to-day. General Seely explained that he had resigned his post because of dissatisfaction over the dual control of the Air Force which he declared involved waste and inefficiency. No personal question, he said, had arisen.

TEA TABLE GOSSIP

—The weekly grind of Elgar choir will be held in the board room of the Y.W.C.A. Main street west, Thursday evening, at 7.30.

—Yesterday Constable Becker brought a bicycle to Central police station which he found at the corner of Catherine and Cannon streets.

—Oliver Hardy, 180 Kensington avenue north, has told the police that his bicycle was stolen yesterday from the Chipman-Holton building, Glendale avenue.

—The meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, which was to have been held on Monday, the 24th inst., has been changed to Friday evening, November 21st, at 8 o'clock.

—W. Victor M. Shaver, acting for Shichita Aluas, instituted proceedings to-day in the County Court, against Aurel M. Bunescu and Moisa Dan, for $234, money alleged to have been borrowed and never returned.

—Alex. Roberts, West Second Street, Upper Hamilton, was admitted to the City Hospital, yesterday, with a crushed foot. While engaged at his work, a ton truck, fully loaded, passed over the member, inflicting painful, but not serious injuries.

—Paper fasteners, all varieties and sizes of paper fasteners now in stock. First shipment from England for some years of the popular Universal Brass fasteners just received, at Cloke & Son, 16 West King Street. Office supplies of all kinds.

—James White, 256 York street, an employee of the Canada Steel Company, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital suffering from injuries in his left leg sustained when he fell through a hole in the G. T. R. freight sheds yesterday afternoon. His condition is not serious.

—Three local men from overseas will arrive home to-night, according to information from Toronto, where a large number from the Minnedosa on a special train from Quebec are expected to-night. The local men are Sergt. F. Dunn, Pte. F. Holtz and Pte. W. J. Wolno.

IN NO HURRY

To Deal With Applications for Increases.

It is doubtful if salary increases for public school principals will be dealt with to-morrow night when the Board of Education meets. The principals have urged that their application by given prompt consideration, but the trustees, it is said, are a bit fed up with salary increases this year, and have resolved to take no further action just now. The increases which the principals ask for amount to a round sum in the aggregate, and trustees say there is no money in sight to grant such increases. Anyway, this matter has been referred to a special committee, and no report is likely to be available by Thursday night.

WIDELY DIFFER

City Fathers' Opinion On Civic Government.

Several of the civic fathers are impressed, it was stated to-day, with the proposal of Controller Peebles to do away with the Board of Control and substitute a civic business manager who would be accountable to a council composed of eight aldermen one from each ward. This would not mean that Hamilton would have only eight aldermen, but only that number, it is felt, would be necessary to keep a check on a business manager.

Just what salary would be paid a competent business manager is uncertain. A man of the right calibre could not be obtained for less than $10,000 or $12,000. When it is appreciated that such an official would purchase material in a year amounting to almost one million dollars, the necessity of paying him a good salary is obvious.

On the other hand there are civic fathers who do not view the proposition with favor at all. They aver that it would be a step in the wrong direction and would approach perilously near to the old mode of aldermanic government. The present system with a Board of Control is the ideal one in their minds and cannot be improved upon to any great extent.

When the matter is discussed at an open meeting at an early date, some sharp contrasts in public opinion are likely to be noted, it is said.

COMMERCE BOARD

Will Meet Here Again Next Monday.

The Board of Commerce representatives will be in Hamilton on Monday at 10.30, to take a further whack at the H.C. of L., according to Col. Frank Morison, of the local Fair Price Board, this morning. This will be their second session in Hamilton. Col. Morison stated that he was of opinion that the subject for consideration this time would be the all-important one, clothing, which will include everything under that head. There will be a great deal of evidence presented, covering the work of the local Board in the last few weeks. It will be a busy session, and will take place in the City Hall.

McKITTRICK ROAD

Engineer Will Have Survey Made at Once.

City Engineer Gray will lose no time in determining what grade can be obtained on the proposed road from the McKittrick property to Binkley's farm. To-morrow he will put a survey party to work and will report early next week. The regular meeting of the Cemetery board will be held to-night, but nothing further will be done regarding the proposed exchange of Westlawn cemetery for the Binkley farm until the question of the roadway has been settled.

Mrs. Richard Dennis, of Galt, spent a couple of days with Hamilton friends.

Miss Effie Nesbitt, of Woodstock, was a visitor in this city yesterday.

Mrs. Andrew Robson and son, of Melfort, Sask., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Robson, Valens.

The monthly meeting of the Boys' Home Committee will be held at the home, Stinson street, Thursday morning, at 10.30.

The regular meeting of the Valens Women's Institute will not be held until Thursday, Nov. 27. This meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Wm. Robson.

ESCHMANN—PENNY

Celebrated very quietly because of recent bereavement and sickness, an interesting event took place in Detroit this afternoon at 3.30, when Miss Margery Maud Penny, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Penny, of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert Albert Eschmann, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eschmann, of Detroit. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. L. Ramsay. The bride, who wore her travelling costume of dark brown velour, with bisque vest and waist, and a small brown velvet hat with beaver fur, was attended by Miss Helen Askers, of Detroit, and Mr. W. Rae Penny, also of Detroit, brother of the bride, who recently returned from overseas, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Eschmann leave on "The Woolverine" at 4.55 for Cleveland, Buffalo and the east, and will be in Hamilton from Friday until Monday, the guests of the bride's parents. They will reside in Detroit.

WESLEY CHURCH W. M. S.

Wesley Church W. M. S. met on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. W. Bickle, president, in the chair. There was a very large attendance. Mrs. (Rev.) Dougall gave a Bible reading on the subject, "Joy," appropriate to this armistice anniversary day. The committee in charge of arrangements for the travelogue, "Stories and Pictures of India," by Mrs. (Rev.) Pescott, reported everything completed for Thursday evening next.

The society has suffered the loss of two members during the month, Miss Bennetto, a charter member, and Mrs. Geo. Mills. Letters of sympathy were sent to the relatives.

Mrs. D. Little reported having secured another associate helper, and that Mrs. Bottoms, superintendent of the cradle roll, had added three life members to her list. Reports from Japan and China were given by Mesdames Ainsworth, White and Hammill, and Mrs. Wm. Crawford in her report of the general work told of 900 real pagan Indians still living in the vicinity of Brantford.

The report of the recent triumphs of temperance was responded to by singing the Doxology. A synopsis of the opening chapters of the new study book was given in an able manner by Mrs. Simmons. Echoes from the recent district convention were heard from Mrs. (Dr.) Dougall, Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Mitchell. The dominant thought was the urgent need for workers. A convincing article on the divine teaching regarding stewardship was read by Mrs. J. H. Robinson. A generous collection was received for the rest fund, and a thank offering of $25 for a life membership from one of the ladies. A solo, "Unanswered," was very sweetly sung by Mrs. Cline, accompanied by Mrs. (Dr.) Hopkins.

GLENHEAD RIDING CLUB

On November 22 the Glenhead Riding and Driving Club will hold a banner meet that promises to attract lovers of the horse, not only from Hamilton, but distant points as well. The various classes given promise even at this early date of having large entries, and the event is sure to create much interest. Valuable prizes have been donated by generous citizens and merchants, and the programme has been classified as follows: Best pony under 12 hands to be shown under saddle, prize donated by G. W. Robinson; best girl or boy rider, donated by W. Cleland; smoking race, donated by Mack Lynch Staunton and McLeod Tew; best performance over jumps and twice around the course, donated by A. G. Bain; youngest rider, donated by Russell Stewart; best farmer's horse suitable for saddle, donated by St. Clair Balfour; best gentleman's saddle horse, donated by Klein & Binkley; and ginger ale race, donated by McLeod Tew. Further particulars will be announced later.

NATIONAL COUNCIL EXECUTIVE

Prominent women from all parts of Canada gathered to-day in this city for the executive meeting of the National Council of Women. The sessions, which commenced at 9.15 this morning, continue all day at the Royal Connaught Hotel. Mrs. W. E. Sanford, the Dominion president, conducted the meetings. AVOID ALUM IN FOOD

Baking Powder is one of the most important food ingredients. Alum or other injurious acids are frequently used by some concerns to lower the cost of production.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

Contains No Alum

It is a pure phosphate baking powder and is guaranteed to be the best, purest and most healthful baking powder possible to produce.

W. Matthew Williams, in "Chemistry of Cooking," says: "Phosphates are the bone-making material of food and have something to do with building up of brain and nervous matter."

LABOR CONFERENCE

At Washington, Divided On Peace With Soviets.

(Canadian Press Wire.)

Washington, Nov. 12.—A division of opinion was apparent to-day among delegates to the International Labor Conference on the proposal of Gino Baldesi, Italian labor representative, that the conference express itself as favoring acceptance of the peace offer of the Russian Soviet Government. Mr. Baldesi had prepared a resolution setting forth such a proposition for submission to-day to the conference.

The recommendations of the conference's committee of 15 on hours of work was not ready to report when the conference assembled, members of the committee having failed yesterday to agree as to whether the decision of the conference should be in the form of a convention to be ratified by all the participating powers, or should amount only to a "recommendation" as to legislation.

FINE MAJORITY

So Far, for Opposition in Newfoundland.

(Canadian Press Wire.)

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 11.—Owing to the severe storm preventing the tugs which were collecting the ballot boxes in the remaining districts from completing their work, only one constituency has been counted since Friday. This is Burgeo, on the southwest coast, and the figures show Small, Oppositionist, elected by 1,428 against James, Government, with 231. Small is a returned lieutenant in the Newfoundland Regiment, and James is editor of the Evening Telegram, a St. John's newspaper. Fortune Bay, returning one member, St. Barbe, one member, and Twillingate, three members, are yet to be heard from. The parties now stand: Opposition 19, Government 12, unreported 5.

THE PRINCE'S TOUR

H.R.H. Has "Light" Day in Washington.

(Canadian Press Wire.)

Washington, Nov. 12.—The Prince of Wales started the second day of his stay in Washington with a visit to the national headquarters of the American Red Cross, where the national and district leaders of the organization were presented to him. Afterward he inspected the Lincoln Memorial, and visited the Walter Reed Hospital, where he met a number of soldiers who were wounded overseas.

The afternoon was left free for the Prince to spend as he pleased, a considerable amount of elasticity in his programme having been decided on, in accordance with his desires, and in order to permit him to obtain some rest after the strenuous twelve hours yesterday, during which he was welcomed officially to the United States.

The Prince to-night will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by Secretary of State Lansing, and later will meet Members of Congress at a reception to be given at the Congressional Library.

ASSASSI[illegible]

Basle, Monday, Nov. 10.—Budapest newspapers [illegible] shot was fired at Admiral Horthy, [illegible]er Commander-in-Chief of the Austro-Hungarian navy, but that the bullet missed its mark. The would-be assassin was arrested.

BRITISH TRADE IS INCREASING

American Chamber of Commerce in London Warns.

Three Billions From Foreign Investments, 1919.

(A. P. Special Cable).

London, Nov. 12.—The American Chamber of Commerce in London, in its report for October, notes a gradual revival of British production, especially of coal, and an increase of trade in British foreign markets, particularly as strikes continue to cripple America's export trale.

According to a leading London bank, the chamber's report says Great Britain's "invisible exports," consisting of returns from foreign investment, etc., are estimated at almost $3,000,000,000 for 1919, as compared with less than $2,000,000,000 in 1913. The adverse balance of imports over exports, the report adds, will, however, result in an estimated net adverse balance for the year of about $60,000,000, as against a favorable pre-war balance of $1,100,000,000.

The Chamber urges ready reception of credit loans in the United States, to enable foreign countries to purchase American goods. It declares the present situation in Great Britain is uneasy, owing to the delay in her essential imports from America, caused by the dock workers' strike in New York.

The plan for a world union of Chambers of Commerce, creating a "business league of nations," which the American Chamber of Commerce devised some time ago, appears to have been favorably received in England. British business circles followed closely reports of what transpired at the recent inter-trade conference at Atlantic City, N.J., the Chamber declares, and the British feel their part in the conference was to align themselves with the U. S. in assisting re-construction of European nations, rather than to seek credits or trade assistance for themselves.

A HOT ELECTION

Italians Are Taking Theirs Very Seriously.

(A. P. Special Cable.)

Rome, Nov. 11.—As election day approaches the excitement throughout the country is growing, and acts of violence are increasing. The latest victim of violence is Adamo Boaris, the Democratic candidate in Ferrara. He had driven in an automobile to the village of Marroca, to address the electors, and had hardly begun to speak when Socialists invaded the meeting and wounded him. The Socialists seized the automobile for their own propaganda, and kept Boaris a prisoner. Soldiers were sent from Ferrara to rescue him.

BURNED TO DEATH

Little Girl Tried to Light Candle.

Daisy Bowbank, five-year-old daughter of William and Mrs. Bowbank, 9 Fennel avenue, Upper Hamilton, was burned to death to-day, when she attempted to light a candle in her mother's absence, and ignited her clothing.

Mrs. Bowbank was at a neighbor's home, and left the little girl in bed. During her absence she went to the gas stove and attempted to light a candle, and her night dress was ignited. Before assistance reached her she was enveloped in flames. When the mother entered she was still screaming from the pain of her injuries, and Dr. McIlwraith was summoned, but a few minutes later she died.

The family moved to the mountain only three weeks ago, and previously resided in the city. Besides her parents two older brothers survive.

NONE TO BE HAD

No Fresh Butter or Eggs Available in Chicago.

(Canadian Press Wire.)

Chicago, Nov. 12.—No fresh butter or eggs are available in Chocago, according to a statement to-day by Myron E. Adams, assistant to Major A. A. Sprague, chairman of the Federal "fair price" committee, which accompanied promulgation of the second weekly "fair price" list. The list itself showed no changes in the margin of profits permitted dealers, and slight variation in value from last week's list.

OLD GUARD PARTY

Peter Ray Has an Idea of Union.

What is more natural in these days of new political parties than that another should spring up as a mushroom in the night? Peter Ray, member of the county council and representative of East Flamboro, says he has in mind the forming of a political party under the name of the Old Guard. The membership will consist of the scattered forces of Grit and Tory. The object will be to combat the rapid strides towards oblivion which both parties seem to be making. Mr. Ray says that surely the combined strength of the two old-time fighting machines will be enough to put the country on an even keel again.

END PEACE PARLEY

Paris Conference to Conclude This Month.

(A. P. Special Cable.)

Paris, Nov. 12—The American delegation to the Peace Conference has informed the Supreme Council of its intention to leave France during the first days of December, according to semi-official information from the French Foreign Office.

The British peace delegation has also expressed the same desire, and the general impression in French Conference circles is that the conference will conclude its work by the end of this month.

PARTING GIFT

K. of P. Lodge Honors E. Wilkins.

Knights of Pythias, Beaver Lodge, have opened a series of card games which will last until the end of February. The second of the series was played last night in the I. O. O. F. Temple, and the winner turned up in Bro. A. Quance. Last week the winner was Bro. A. Reeves, and he was presented with a handsome silver ash tray by Bro. Peebles, Grand Master at Arms. A prize will be given to the winner each Tuesday night that the card club meet. At the end of the season, prizes will be given to the men making the highest number of points all year. The games played are euchre and cribbage. Games have created a good deal of enthusiasm among members of Beaver Lodge, and the competition is keen.

Bro. E. Wilkins left last night for Buenos Aires, Argentine Republic, where he will take up business. On behalf of the lodge a pipe and an emblematic pin were presented to him by Past Chancellor A. Wilkes, who said a few words expressing the esteem of the members.

The Card Committee are James Coates, chairman; H. A. Doucette and S. Witherington.

SIR ADAM KEPT OWN COUNSEL

Would Not Discuss City and Street Railway.

Ratepayers Would Get Chance to Vote.

When questioned yesterday respecting rumored negotiations between the Provincial Hydro Commission and the D. P. & T. Co., with a view of purchasing the latter in its entirety, Sir Adam Beck maintained a non-committal attitude, and declined even to give a hint to local civic officials of what was being done.

Ald. Aitchison and A. P. Kappele, on behalf of the Civic Street Railway Committee, went to Toronto for the sole purpose of interviewing Sir Adam Beck on this matter, but they were unable to learn very much.

"We wanted to know where we stood, but Sir Adam was not disposed to let us in on anything at this stage of affairs. There is no knowing just what is being done," said one of the civic officials who attended the conference.

Ald. Aitchison and Mr. Kapelle both asked Sir Adam if the city would be able to take over and operate the Hamilton Street Railway Company in event of the Hydro purchasing the D. P. & T. Co.'s substantial properties.

"That question would rest with your ratepayers," replied Sir Adam. "If such a deal went through and Hamilton wanted to operate the street railway, why the ratepayers would certainly be given a chance to vote on it."

Further than that Sir Adam would not go. A special meeting of the Civic Street Railway Committee will be held at an early date to go into the matter more deeply.

DROP CASE AGAINST HON. FLEMING.

(Canadian Press Wire.)

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 12.—The action in the courts whereby the province of New Brunswick has sought restitution of certain moneys from Hon. J. K. Fleming, former premier, will not be further pressed, for the present at least, owing to his poor health.

MUST GUARD DOMINIONS

Jellicoe for Strong Overseas Squadrons

In Close Proximity to Distant Parts.

(Canadian Press Wire.)

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 12.—"To my mind the British navy should not be kept short of overseas squadrons. I believe that the Empire as a whole realizes the imperative necessity of maintaining ships of war, not only in home waters, but in close proximity to the most distant Dominions. We must see to it that our overseas naval forces are never again permitted to be as they were prior to the war. It is due those gallant souls that were given to the Empire in its hour of peril that such a condition should not exist again."

This declaration was made last night before the Canadian Club. Viscount Jellicoe summed the lesson which the great admiral believed had been taught the British Commonwealth by the experiences of the war.

He asserted that the people of British Columbia were justified in their anxiety during the early months of the war, knowing that Admiral von Spee's squadron was off the coast, and that the protection against them was inadequate. He held that the fears of other portions of the Empire, based on the same conditions, also were warranted. He contended it was the plain duty of the Empire to see that preparedness on the sea in relation to the overseas Dominions was no longer an issue to be toyed with.

"I know that Great Britain is hard up," he said. "I know that the Dominions, too, are hard up; but I don't believe that the Empire feels so hard up that it cannot keep up an efficient navy.

ONE CASE HERE

Smallpox Brought in From Toronto.

There is one case of smallpox in Hamilton. The victim is a man who is thought to have contracted the disease while visiting friends in the downtown section of Toronto. He was sick for two or three days and thought he was suffering merely from chickenpox.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. James Roberts, M.O.H., was called to a home in the southwest portion of the city to diagnose what was believed to be a chickenpox. On seeing the man, Dr. Roberts was convinced that it was smallpox.

The man who is a resident of this city said that he visited friends in Toronto and that all the members of the household had had "chickenpox."

The isolation hospital in the west end of the city was heated and the necessary help engaged early this morning to receive the patient, and he will be kept under close quarantine.

OBITUARY

James Stinson, an Old Resident, Dead.

MR. JAMES STINSON—At his home, 255 Wellington street north, the death occurred this morning of Mr. James Stinson. Deceased was born in Ireland 76 years ago, and for the past 35 years had been a resident of this city. Since coming to Hamilton he had been a constant and devoted member of Knox Presbyterian Church. He was well known and held in highest esteem by all. Six years ago, Mr. Stinson suffered a stroke of paralysis, and since that time his health has been poor. About two or three months ago he took a turn for the worse and had been steadily failing in health until the end occurred. His suffering had been borne with a wonderful patience and resignation. The sympathy of many friends will be with his wife, who survives him. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock to Hamilton cemetery.

The funeral of Edward Walker took place yesterday afternoon from 15 Arthur avenue south. Rev. W. A. McIlroy officiated. The pallbearers were J. R. Dodson, Fred Dodson, James Gow, D. Allan, J. Rowland and H. Jarvis. The many floral offerings showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

The funeral of John Cox took place from Dodsworth & Albright's chapel yesterday to Hamilton cemetery. Rev. A. Barnard officiated, and the pallbearers were six members of St. John's Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of which deceased was a member.

The funeral of George Henry Gibson took place from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Mayberry, 66 Arthur avenue, yesterday to Hamilton cemetery. Rev. W. E. White officiated. The officers and members of Dundurn Lodge, A. F. and A. M., turned out in a body and accompanied the remains of their late brother to the cemetery, where the burial service of the order was read. The pallbearers were W. Porteous, W. W. Hancock, J. Mundell, E. Taylor, A. Mackie and J. S. Veals.

GOOD FOR OUTSIDE WORK

The favorable weather of the past two or three weeks has enabled the Works Department to go further than City Engineer Gray thought would be possible. Especially has splendid progress been made with the concreting and asphalting work. "If this weather only continues for a little while longer we shall be able to get much more done," said Mr. Gray.

NO SETTLEMENT ON IRELAND YET

London, Nov. 12.—The Cabinet is about to take up consideration of the proposals of the Cabinet Committee on the subject of Ireland. It was learned from an authoritative source that the Government is much embarrassed by the publication of what was purported to be the Government plan for the settlement of the Irish problem. The Associated Press is officially informed that all stories hitherto printed are necessarily speculative and incorrect, because the Government has not yet formulated its proposals, and cannot until the committee's report is considered.

FORCE PETLURA TO END FIGHT

London, Nov. 11.—A wireless despatch received to-day from General Denikine, the anti-Bolshevik leader in South Russia, says 30,000 Galicians have joined the volunteer army, and that as a consequence General Simon Petlura, head of the Ukranian forces, intends to lay down arms.

TWO OF RENOWN'S CREW LOST.

New York, Nov. 12.—William Franklin and John Laight, able bodied seamen of the crew of the British battle cruiser Renown, were lost at sea last Sunday morning when the Renown, ploughing through a gale, was coming here from Trinidad to take the Prince of Wales home.

Midshipman Richard Knight was taken from the big battle cruiser to-day to the Presbyterian Hospital with both legs broken as the result of the tempestuous weather.

WENTWORTH OVER THE TOP FOR THE LOAN

Reached Its Objective Yesterday and Will Get a Lot More.

DUNDAS STILL SLOW

A Strong Finish Would Put Valley City in Honor Class.

Wentworth County went well "over the top" last night. Although official figures up to 5 o'clock Wednesday do not show this result, returns received after closing time were sufficient to put the county well over.

It should be explained that the Wentworth objective is $1,900,000, with an additional $500,000 objective for special subscriptions, making a total of $2,400,000.

George R. Harris, the county organizer, who is largely responsible for Wentworth's good showing, was highly elated when returns showed Wentworth well over, and he immediately wired Ontario headquarters: "Wentworth County over combined objective of two million four hundred thousand. Forward honor flag and reserve several crests."

Mr. Harris said: "We're going to get those crests very quickly if the canvassers keep up their bully work. Every division except Dundas should be over by to-morrow night, and we have still hopes that they will buck up and get a flag."

LOSES TWO BETS.

Mr. Harris promised the canvassers of Binbrook a dinner if they went over $200,000. Their objective was $90,000, and last night they reported they would reach $200,000, and make Mr. Harris come through with a mighty good dinner.

Last year Beverly was $109,000 short of its objective, and did not get an honor flag. The objective this year is $200,000, and the township has already gone over the top, and is going to make up last year's deficit and get last year's flag in addition to the Prince of Wales' flag this year. Mr. Harris also promised the workers a dinner if they went over $300,000, and they are going to do it easily. "I don't mind buying dinners for canvassers who work like that," said Mr. Harris.

HOW SAFTFLEET WON FLAG.

Barton and Saltfleet won divisional honor flags yesterday. When one Saltfleet canvasser found his division was only $9,000 short of an honor flag he himself subscribed for enough bonds to put his division over the top.

BINBROOK WANTS SIX CRESTS.

Hugh Johnson, of the Binbrook division, said last night: "We've got our honor flag, but we want six crests, and our canvassers are working sixteen hours a day to get them. Just watch for our total Saturday night."

If the canvassers keep up their fine work, Wentworth may yet reach the $4,000,000 mark.

W. M. Clendenning, the busy county secretary, stopped counting applications long enough to announce the following figures, which give results up to 5 o'clock last night, and do not include specials:

| District. | Objective. | Obtained to date. |
|---|---|---|
| Dundas | $400,000 | $265,550 |
| East Flamboro | 225,000 | 272,450 |
| West Flamboro | 160,000 | 164,150 |
| Beverly | 200,000 | 212,400 |
| Ancaster | 275,000 | 224,800 |
| Glanford | 100,000 | 91,000 |
| Barton | 200,000 | 192,450 |
| Binbrook | 90,000 | 112,100 |
| Saltfleet | 250,000 | 241,950 |
| Team totals | —$1,900,000 | $1,776,950 |

WALTER HORNE STILL LEADS.

Walter Horne, of East Flamboro, still leads the canvassers, but several others are close up, and a merry race is in progress for the big prize.

EAST FLAMBORO'S GOOD WORK.

East Flamboro is $47,000 over their objective, and canvassers of that division say they will get $100,000 over. Three full days yet remain, and they are sure to turn in an excellent report for the final spurt.

DUNDAS STILL HAS CHANCE.

Dundas canvassers are plugging hard to get a flag for the Valley City, and if the residents will only back them up loyally there is yet a chance they may get the Prince of Wales' honor flag.

16 LABOR MAYORS

Elected in England—One Lady Mayor.

London, Nov. 12.—Sixteen Labor mayors were elected throughout England and Wales yesterday, including T. G. Hall, of Hull; T. B. Duncan, of Leeds; Alderman Fox, of Manchester. The first lady mayor was elected at Stalybridge, Councillor Ada Summers. Conservative mayors number 148; Liberals 112. Councillor Vaughan was elected mayor of Bethnal Green amid some opposition, on the ground that he was a conscientious objector. At Liverpool, the Liberal-Nationalist members refused to participate in the mayoral elections, stating their voice would be ineffective in the selections.

Other selections included J. T. Francombe, Bristol; Alderman Cadbury, Birmingham; Alderman Wade, Bradford; G. F. Forsdike, Cardiff; B. W. Ellis, Liverpool; M. Lee, Newcastle; G. Green, Norwich; Samuel Roberts, jun., Sheffield; Alderman Walker, York; W. H. Wood, Durham; Ald. Spencer, Halifax; R. G. Wood, Folkstone; Alderman Chaplin, Leicester; L. R. Dustan, Plymouth; N. Malone, Warwick.

All the prohibition legislation in the world doesn't seem to prevent money from being tight.

STOCK COSTS PROHIBITIVE

Feed for Animals Takes All the Profit.

Expert Urges New Type of Horse.

Victoria, Nov. 12.—The time has come when Canada must take stock of itself as it concerns her live-stock industry, according to H. H. Arkell, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner of Ottawa, who spoke at the opening session of the annual meeting of the Western Canada Live Stock Convention here to-day.

"Present conditions are forcing the country into a difficult situation," he said. "The cost of production is such on live stock that live-stock men are finding it difficult to secure returns from feeding that will warrant them putting high-class grains through live stock."

Mr. Arkell urged the development of a new type of horse to meet the export demands of this age.

"To-day we find ourselves in Canada with a large number of horses on hand that are unmarketable," he said. "We are faced with the obligation of selling the type of horses we have on hand and producing a type that will meet the new marked conditions. In producing a Canadian draught horse, we can make a real dividend-payer for Canada and work up a firm business to meet the export demand."

He advocated the development of the chilled beef and live-beef export trade with Europe, and said Canada was in the geographical position to outdistance her chief competitors, Australia and the Argentine in this trade.

CURE YOUR COLD WITHOUT MEDICINE

Just Breathe "Catarrhozone." Its Balsamic Vapor Does the Rest.

It's a tiny germ that sets up the irritation that makes colds so disagreeable. Colds die quickly if Catarrhozone is used, simply because the vapor of Catarrhozone instantly destroys the germ that keeps the cold alive.

Every breath you draw through the inhaler fills the whole breathing apparatus with pure piney essences that stops colds at their very beginning. You experience a pleasant sensation of relief at once. Soreness, congestion and irritation leave the nose and throat, the head is cleared, and every trace of cold or catarrh is cured. Catarrhozone is so sure, so pleasant, such a safe remedy for winter ills that you can't afford to do without it. Get the dollar outfit, it lasts two months and is guaranteed to cure. small size 50c; trial size 25c, all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

WATERFORD

Mr. Ira Hendershott, of Hamilton was in this place on a business trip during last week.

Mrs. J. T. Bloomfield, spent Saturday in Brantford and Monday in Simcoe.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Marlatt, of Montread, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Marlatt.

Mr. John Hill, has purchased the Daniel LeBarr farm, south of this place and Mr. R. A. Hill, has purchased Wm. Tate's farm.

Friends regret the illness of Mrs. E. M. N. Kitchen, and hope she may soon recover.

Mrs. Chas. Perney is quite ill at her daughter's, Mrs. C. Lange, in Hamilton.

Mrs. R. Gardiner is in Brantford Hospital undergoing treatment.

Messrs T. C. Savage, and Chas Harrison have gone to spend a fortnight in the north woods, deer hunting.

Mr. John Dale, of St. George has been the guest of his son William, in this place.

Mrs. John Bowlby has returned home after spending some time with her brother at Browneville, and her daughter at St. Thomas.

Quarterly meeting services were held in the Methodist church on Sunday and were well attended.

Prof. C. Alway, of St. Paul, Minn., is visiting his mother, Mrs. G. F. Alway.

Quite a number from this place attended the district meeting at Port Dover on Tuesday.

W. P. RYRIE

Prominent Toronto Mason Dies Suddenly.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—Mr. William P. Ryrie, one of the most prominent members of the Masonic Order in Canada, and a well-known business man, was found dead yesterday morning in his apartments at 755 Yonge street. Death had been sudden, and had occurred on Monday night when he had returned from a reception tendered him by Toronto Masons, as when found he was partly undressed, and his lodge regalia was lying on a chair in the room.

The late Mr. Ryrie had been a sufferer from heart trouble for several years, but latterly had been greatly improved in health, and was preparing to leave for Florida, where on the advice of his physician he intended to spend the winter. It is presumed that the excitement attendant in the reception proved too much for him and he passed away suddenly in his rooms that night.

The late Mr. Ryrie, who was unmarried, was 62 years of age. He was born in Toronto and received his education at the Toronto Grammar School, and for many years was president of its Old Boys' Association. In the business world he was a well-known figure, being president of the Ryrie Paper Company and of Hyslop Brothers, Limited. He was also a director of the National Club.

In Masonic circles the late Mr. Ryrie was one of the outstanding men in Canada. He became a member of the order early in life, and was always very active in the interests of the society. In 1909 he was elected Deputy Grand Master Sovereign Great Priory of Canadian Knights Templar, and in 1911 he was elected Supreme Grand Master of the same order. Only a short time ago he was made inspector-general of the 33rd Degree Supreme Council, and on October 23rd of this year, at the meeting of the Supreme Council in Montreal he received the rare distinction of being appointed an active member of the 33rd Degree Supreme Council. This honor had not been formally conferred upon him at the time of his death, it being intended to do so at the next meeting of the Supreme Council.

ROBBED, NEARLY CHOKED.

Windsor, Nov. 12.—Thomas Tiggins, who lives on Elm avenue, fell among thieves as he was on his way home at three o'clock this morning, and they took from him a gold watch, $8 in cash, and a diamond stickpin. Higgins offered to give up quietly if the bandits would not injure him, but they insisted on putting a rope about his neck and nearly choking him to death.

CAPITATION FEES SCORED

In Report of British Women Delegates

Who Came to Probe Immigration.

London, Nov. 12.—The Misses Girdler and Pott, delegates appointed by the Overseas Settlement Committee to enquire concerning openings in Canada for women from the United Kingdom, present a long report which was laid before Parliament to-day. They spent four months in Canada, and admit they had to omit visiting many districts. Regarding domestic service, they speak of the mischief caused by agents in England telling intending emigrants that labor-saving devices are in universal use in Canada, which, they say, is a complete mistake. The restlessness among domestic workers here is accentuated in Canada by these mis-statements. There appears to be legitimate means of counteracting this tendency. Wages are abnormally inflated and afford no assured basis for future guidance. British women would do well to realize the opportunity for work as rural school teachers, although the life presents hardships and difficulties. The teacher will invariably meet with friendliness and kindness. No extensive demand was found for women stenographers, nurse-maids, or milliners, but there is a considerable demand for first-class dressmakers.

The recommendations made by the commissioners include that women applying to be sent to Canada for domestic service should state in writing whether they wish to live in towns or rural districts. Considerable misunderstanding would thus be avoided. Every woman should be interviewed by a select committee of women on behalf of the Overseas Settlement Committee, and the Canadian Commissioner of Emigration. Educated women should be advised that some training in the Dominion is necessary as a preliminary. The number of women travelling to Canada should be periodically regulated by information obtained from Canada employment bureaus. Close communication should also be established between the Overseas Settlement Committee and the Canadian Women's Councils.

The commissioners finally spoke of the harm wrought by the undesirable type of women emigrants in former years. Prejudice is freely expressed by Canadian ladies against young women of the domestic servant class from the United Kingdom. This is owing to the operations of agents, who make their living from capitation fees. Practically every experienced authority in Canada is agreed that this system has been the source of much evil.

NO SUGAR FAMINE.

Clamor Due to Demand for White Granulated.

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—On account of complaints regarding the sugar shortage, the Canadian Trade Commission telegraphed thirteen representative Board of Trade and Wholesale Grocers' Associations of Canada, stating that yellow sugar was available for immediate delivery. The replies have shown no evidence of a sugar famine, but some objection was made to the proportion of yellow sugar offered. It would appear that the problem is one of high living rather than high cost of living. The Canadian Trade Commission is convinced that the clamor for more sugar is due largely to people insisting on getting all granulated sugar to the practical exclusion of yellow.

THE STREET RAILWAY

Some of our aldermen who went up to Toronto the other day to interview Sir Adam Beck in reference to electric radial railways and other matters were told by that gentleman that if the citizens of Hamilton wanted to have the Hydro-Electric Commission acquire the Hamilton street railway, the ratepayers would have to vote for the Commission taking it over. This means, we suppose, that the Commission would be willing to purchase and run the road should the citizens be willing to put up the money. A simple surety or guarantee of so many millions would not be sufficient in this case. The city would have to put up real money to pay for the road. The Cataract people would not part with the road on promises to pay, if need be.

It might be that if the Commission was to buy out the whole electric road plant of the Cataract a better bargain might be made for the street railway than if it were alone purchased, and it might be good business to allow Sir Adam to make the purchase. But it should be made on behalf of the city, the road should be handed over to the city to operate it and get what profit was to be got out of it, or a price might be agreed upon to compensate the Commission for operating it. Were the road to be thrown into the general railway business of the Commission there would be the possibility of it being milked to make up any deficiency entailed in the other business of the Commission.

We would prefer to see the street railway run by the city. It could buy its own power and it would be able to regulate the fares without the intervention of the Commission. It could also make extensions as it thought fit and not as Sir Adam did. It could run one or two-men cars and it could run as few or as many cars as it thought fit and do whatever it wished in the matter of overcrowding, etc. If Hamilton is to be responsible for the purchase money it should both control and operate the road itself.

PREMIER DRURY'S CABINET

At this writing the names of the members of Mr. Drury's Cabinet have not been officially announced. But it is generally believed that those already announced will form his new Government. None of them has had experience as a Minister of the Crown and only two of them have had political experience as legislators. They are nearly all new to the business. If they were to be aligned as to their former party leanings it would be seen that Mr. Drury has more Tories than Liberals in his Cabinet. Mr. Drury himself might have been classed as an Independent Liberal. There will be two more Ministers and Departments in the new than in the old Government. There were eight portfolios in the Hearst Government. There are ten in the Drury Cabinet. The new portfolios are held by the two Labor representatives—that of Mines and Labor and Health, Mr. Rollo having to look after two Departments. We believe this to be a mistake. The health of the Province is important enough to demand the attention of an expert.

There is a general feeling throughout the Province that Mr. Drury and his Government should have every opportunity to show what they can do to give the people good government, and we imagine that those of the Cabinet who have to seek re-election at the hands of their constituents will not meet with any opposition. We expect, whatever else we will get, to have economic Government. The farmers have for years been calling upon the Government to cut out all extravagances, and we will be disappointed if this new Government does not do that.

OUR CITY PARKS

Hamilton's system of city parks is, more or less, in its infancy. Public breathing places are as important in a large city as are its public schools. The public streets are now too dangerous for the young to disport themselves upon, and they are not fitted for the recreation purposes of the growing up young men and women. Circumstances have thus forced communities to provide parks and recreation grounds for the people, where they can get amusement and at the same time healthful exercises without having the fear of the police before their eyes. I have not the slightest doubt that hundreds of young men have been made criminals through the lack of such playgrounds. They had to take to the streets, where they were hounded by the minions of the law, and life made miserable for them. Many of those caught in their meshes were driven into the walks of crime and thus lost to decent society.

There is at present a movement on foot to have what is known as the Scott property fitted up as an athletic ground for the rising generation of the east end of the city. Those who have witnessed on the summer evenings or Saturday afternoons the crowds of young people enjoying themselves on the property will not have two opinions as to the need for the athletic facilities asked for. Any by-laws submitted to the people for this purpose would meet with general approval. But it is felt that if wading pools are needed for this park they are also needed for Victoria Park and Eastwood Park as well, and that if the improvements needed on the Scott property are to be made, those others should not be neglected.

One of the greatest assets and advertisements that this city has is the mountain. As a scenic attraction it has few if any equals on this continent. The Prince of Wales was charmed with it, as is every visitor who visits it. Not only is it all that, but it is rapidly becoming a city by itself. There are said to be over five thousand people living on the top of the mountain, the most of whose bread winners work in the city. In a few years there will be a great city on the top of the mountain. It is to become the residential district. As it grows the city will have to provide the facilities and advantages of city life, for those who now live on the township side will have to be brought into the city sooner or later probably sooner, and the most urgent need of the mountain is better access to and from the city.

There is now a proposal before the city authorities to submit a by-law to the ratepayers next January to provide $100,000 for the Ccott Park improvement, $25,000 for the other city parks, and $50,000 to be used as a beginning with the proposed new road leading from the city to the mountain top, which will eventually be followed by a street railway. This new road would give access to the mountain from the east end and also from the west end. All those improvements are required. They would add much to the pleasure and comfort and convenience of the people. They would be well worth the money and they would supply a certain amount of work at a time when we are all talking about reconstruction.

Of course, all this means expense at a time when we are all trying to economise and conserve, but it is our duty to do whatever we can to make this a pleasant city to live in, and to make the people, especially the young people contented with their lot where so much is conspiring to make them dissatisfied. We believe the citizens would approve of such a by-law if presented to them.

WHERE DO THE TAXES GO ?

The Citizens' Research Institute of Canada, located at Ottawa, has undertaken a work the object of which is to teach the people of the Dominion Canadian citizenship as it relates to the financial end of the Government of the country. It has just issued what it calls Story No. 3 of the Cost of Government in Canada, in which it states that the Institute is incorporated to make citizen influence in Government effective. To arrive at what a resident of Ontario paid in 1917, for local Government, the expenditure per head of the municipality in which he lives must be added to the Provincial expenditure per head. Figures are given for Toronto, Hamilton and London. To avoid duplication the Provincial war tax is excluded from the budgets of the several municipalities as this is included in the Provincial budget.

It is noted that the expenditure of the city of Toronto for 1917 was almost equal to that for the whole Province. In the case of both Hamilton and London the expenditure for education was almost one-third of the total expenditure. It is also stated that where the expenditure on health work is high the amount spent on charities and correction is low and vice-versa.

Government during the year 1917, according to the Institute's figures, cost the citizens of the different municipalities per head—men, women and child—about as follows: Toronto, Municipal $33.64, Provincial $6.02, National $16.40, total $56.06; Hamilton: $21.60, $6.02, $16.40, total $44.02; London: $23.37, $6.02, $16.40, total $45.79. Toronto's income for 1917, exclusive of revenues from public service enterprises, was $16,111,909.15. Hamilton's income was $2,328,413.40, and London's $1,339,479.44. Toronto showed a deficit for public service enterprises of $173,358.48. Hamilton showed a surplus on waterworks operation of $61,441.80, with outstanding taxes of $454,732, and an overdraft for 1916 of $170,174.60. London had a profit from public utilities of $16,149.89.

Any feelings of complacency which people may have about popular education in the United States are given a rude shock by figures recently published by one of the faculty of Boston University, says the Christian Science Monitor. It appears that 18 per cent. of the children do not go to school at all, and that of the remaining 82 per cent. a large proportion are in industrial, sectarian and private schools.

OTHER FAPERS VIEWS

A BAD OUTLOOK.

(Kingston Whig.)

Since 1911 the population of Quebec has increased more than four times as fast as that of Ontario. This state of affairs ought to provide Ontario with much food for thought.

WARNING TO DRURY.

(Ottawa Journal.)

We warn Farmer Drury that he must not pass legislation stipulating the sort of food we've got to eat. The Germans lived on turnips four years and look what happened to them.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

(London Free Press.)

Public ownership would never have come to its present recognized place if private ownersip and operation had been respectful toward the public, and had catered to them with something more than an eye to the production of dividends.

YES, THERE IS.

(Buffalo News.)

But isn't there a disposition on the part of drivers of cars to be less careful—less regardful of the person who walks? The pedestrian has rights which are not second to the rights of a motorist, a fact that seems to be overlooked by many drivers.

HOPELESS.

(Toronto Star.)

Yet it is conceded on all sides that the Union Government stands no chance of being upheld by the country, and apparently nobody, even at Ottawa, expects anything else than that the Government will be wiped out when the next elections take place, be it soon or late.

A CHANGE NEEDED.

(Brantford Expositor.)

The Ontario License Board is asking for an investigation of the charges made against it by Mr. J. W. Oaks and Mr. Hartley Dewart, K. C. Even if the Ontario License Board were dressed up in a good thick coat of whitewash, it wouldn't allay the conviction that there has been but little effort to punish the offenders, higher up, against the Ontario Temperance Act. A change there will be as beneficial as in the Government.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS.

(Guelph Mercury.)

Whipping is about to be abolished in the Toronto Public Schools, says a news despatch. There was a time, many years ago, when a red-blooded boy thought his education was being neglected if he couldn't entice the teacher to "lick" him at least three times a week. And there were some lickings, too. On special occasions the chief subjects came properly reinforced to allow the master to get sufficient exercise before the hopeful pupil cried enough.

BOLSHEVISM'S IDEAL STATE.

(Philadelphia Record.)

The ideal state depicted in the literature of the Russian Workers, and hopefully looked forward to by Bertrand Russell, is one of absolute freedom from all authority; the state in which every man should do what he likes without restraint. That is the freedom of the jungle.

The restraints of civilized society are irksome to the anarchists. Occasionally they are irksome to all of us. But we submit to some inconveniences rather than revert to savagery.

"NO GOD, NO MASTER!"

(Buffalo Courier.)

This is one of the slogans of the Union of Russian Workers, members of which were among the more than 300 alien anarchists recently arrested by Government agents on charges that they were plotting the overthrow of the Government, and speedy deportation of whom is now hoped for.

"No God, no Master!" Such is the "freedom" the Bolsheviki would force on the world!

One can understand how a demented brain might so confuse license with freedom, but what of the parlor Bolshevists who have been encouraging such insane babble!

ST. PAUL'S MEN

Opening Meeting of Season a Great Success.

The Men's Association of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church held its first meeting of the season last evening, and it proved a very enthusiastic affair.

Supper was served at 6.45 by the ladies of the church, after which Major (Rev.) G. G. D. Kilpatrick, D.S.O., of Toronto, gave a most interesting address. Major Kilpatrick had a brilliant record overseas as a chaplain with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, and his clever discourse on the "Ideal Relationship of Men to Their Church," was extremely profitable, inspiring and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Lieut.-Col. Gordon Weir, D.S.O., also gave an excellent address and appeal in connection with the Victory loan. Other speakers were Rev. Dr. D. D. Drummond, pastor of St. Paul's Church; Dr. MacNaughton, President of the Association, who occupied the chair; Messrs. Robert Morton, John Stephen, Lyman Lee, J. R. Marshall and C. W. Finch. Messrs. C. E. Pottier, George Anderson, George Matheson and W. A. Clapperton capably supplied the music. Undoubtedly the meeting was a grand success and a splendid series of meetings is anticipated this winter.

The officers of the association for this season are: Hon. President, Rev. Dr. D. R. Drummond; President, Dr. MacNaughton; Vice-President, R. B. McGregor; Secretary, D. E. Malcolm; Terasurer, C. W. Finch; Committee—Lyman Lee, H. B. Dwight, L. T. Malcolm.

A. Y. P. A.

Will Organize Four New Branches Here.

A meeting of the local council of the Anglican Young Peoples' Association was held on Tuesday evening. The President, Mr. H. Bright, was in the chair. Plans for the season's work were outlined, the decision being made to endeavor to open at least four new city churches. It was also decided to change the night of meeting to the third Monday of each month, the next meeting to be held on Monday evening, Nov. 17th. The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. Mr. Ferguson.

MISSIONS OF THE BAPTIST CHURCH WOMEN

Ontario Home and Foreign Society in Conference in Guelph.

FINE PROGRESS

Shown in All the Reports —The President is Honored.

Guelph, Nov. 12.—The annual convention of the Women's Baptist Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of Ontario was begun this morning at the Woolwich Street Baptist Church, and will continue until to-morrow night. Some three hundred and fifty are attending the convention. Mrs. Charles J. Holden is the presiding officer, and Mrs. Andrew Imrie the convention secretary. The sessions to-day dealt altogether with the work of the Home Missionary Society, while to-morrow will be given up to the Foreign Missionary Society.

As a preliminary to the session this morning, a directors' conference was held at 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, and in the evening a joint prayer meeting of the Home and Foreign Missionary Boards was held, led by Mrs. H. B. Coumans, of Toronto, which proved to be a very interesting meeting.

The keynote of the morning gathering was "Soul Winning," and it was opened with an address of welcome, on behalf of the Guelph Circle, by Mrs. Jackson. Mrs. Holman replied briefly.

A number of reports by officers showed that splendid progress had been made all along the line during the past year. Mrs. Allan MacLean, of Toronto, presented the report of the recording secretary. Mrs. D. C. Jones, of Toronto, giving a summary of the work accomplished. Mrs. J. Shenstone, secretary of the comfort boxes, stated that, although the war was over, those comfort boxes would continue to be sent out, and the hearty co-operation of all was asked to keep up the work.

The treasurer, Miss Josephine Wright, of Toronto, reported the balance on hand Oct. 21, 1819, as $2,481.06, and this, together with the receipts from the circles, Young Women's Circles, bands, individuals and other sources, made the grand total $19,146.11. The balance on hand on Oct. 20, 1919, was $3,173.45. The total receipts of the special Slavic fund were $830.75, with disbursements of $20. The special contributions and legacies amounted to $1,115.76. The statement of balances shows $2,582.25 war bond investment, and $3,517.72 in the bank. In the special Slavic building fund there is $709.75; special Slavic literature fund, $1,101; specials, $1,115.75; Jemima Shenstone fund, $1,000; general account, $3,173.46; a total of $6,099.97. There are 45 society life members and 23 band life members.

Mr. W. L. Kingston, of Toronto, Superintendent of Agents, gave an address on "Why and How." Mrs. Thomas Moore, Toronto, spoke with reference to the Bureau of Literature, and Mrs. E. J. Zavitz, Toronto, gave a short address on "What You Are Missing."

The morning session closed with an impressive address by Rev. Andrew Imrie, of Indian Road Baptist Church, Toronto, on the subject of "Personal Evangelism."

The first business of this afternoon's session was the election of officers of the Women's Home Missionary Society, resulting as follows: President, Mrs. C. J. Holman, Toronto; First Vice-President, Mrs. Lillie, Toronto; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Henderson, Toronto. Members of the Board—Mrs. H. Ryrie, Toronto; Mrs. W. T. Graham, Toronto; Mrs. Madill, Toronto; Mrs. J. W. Nicholson, Brantford; Miss Trotter, Toronto, and Mrs. Burt, Owen Sound.

A tribute was paid to Mrs. Holman, who has been President of this society for 25 years, she being presented with $100 as a gift from the Women's Home Mission Board.

The report of the Indian work, presented by Mrs. Kent, Toronto, showed that $612.47 had been raised, a decrease of $16.42.

Mrs. Marshall presented the plan of the Forward Movement amid the McMaster University women students, and made an appeal to the Baptist churches to help provide refurnishings for the residence.

Mrs. Copp gave a comprehensive survey of the work undertaken by the Baptist Home Mission Society. It included the support of fourteen missionaries and nine student pastors on the English fields. Other work supported is the Scandinavian and Slavic work, the French work in Quebec, and the Hungarian work in the Maritime Provinces. Mrs. Holman presented the needs of the "John Kolenikoff Memorial."

Miss Anna Phelps, the newly-appointed missionary to the foreign field, was introduced to the convention.

PREMIER DRURY TO NAME HIS CABINET TO-NIGHT

Mr. Nickle, of Kingston, in Toronto in Conference As to Taking a Portfolio

Three Men Without Seats---Only Two Have Had Parliamentary Experience

Toronto, Nov. 13.— When Premier-designate E. C. Drury makes official announcement, probably to-night, of the personnel of his new Cabinet the following (as announced in the Times last night), is practically certain to be the line-up he will present for approval of the electors of the Province:

Premier and President of the Council—E. C. Drury.
Attorney-General — W. F. Nickle, K.C.
Minister of Lands and Forests—Beniah Bowman.
Minister of Mines—Harry Mills.
Minister of Health and Labor Walter Rollo.
Minister of Education—R. H. Grant.
Minister of Public Works — F. C. Biggs.
Provincial Secretary—H. C. Nixon, B.S.A.
Provincial Treasurer—Peter Smith.
Minister of Agriculture— Manning Doherty, B.S.A.
Minister without portfolio — Lt.-Col. D. Carmichael, M.C., D.S.O.

Justification for the assumption that the above is the correct personnel of the new Cabinet-to-be comes from its publication in yesterday's issue of the U.F.O. organ, The Farmers' Sun. And the day previous to publication its editor spent an hour with the Premier-to-be in the precincts of his place of retirement. The only addition to the above to The Sun's prognostication is the name of Mr. Harry Mills, who was chosen Tuesday at the Labor caucus to be Minister of Mines.

MR. NICKLE IN TORONTO.

In interviews yesterday Mr. Drury admitted that the all-important portfolio of the Attorney-General had been offered to Mr. W. F. Nickle, K.C. who lately resigned his Kingston seat in the Federal House. The energetic Kingston barrister was in Toronto last night, and was in consultation with the Premier-designate. Late last night it was understood he had not given Mr. Drury a final decision.

Mr. R. H. Grant is said to have definitely accepted the portfolio of Minister of Education. Mr. Peter Smith, of Sebringville has been offered the Provincial Treasurship, but there is no indication as yet that he has filed his acceptance. Mr. Harry Mills' selection for the portfolio of Minister of Mines is, of course, definite, after his selection by the Labor caucus. The balance of the men named are, at all events, Mr. Drury's selections, and they will meet the U.F.O. Chieftain to-day in Toronto. An official statement, it is expected, will be forthcoming to-night.

THREE WITHOUT SEATS.

Of the men named for Cabinet positions only three, Messrs. Drury, Nickel and Doherty, are without seats in the Legislature. Only two Messrs. Nickle and Bowman, have had Parliamentary experience. Mr. Nickle, with experience to his credit, both at Toronto and Ottawa, would likely prove an especially popular selection. He is a man of forceful personality, possesses exceptional oratorical abilities, and resigned his seat in the Federal House in August last, because he considered the electors of Kingston returned him as a Unionist-member for the duration of the war only.

Until Mr. Drury and his Government are actually in the saddle he will make no announcement of policy on temperance or any other kind of legislation. Yesterday he declined to say what advantage the Provincial Legislature might take of the passage of the amendment to the Canada Temperance Act. Asked if he would be prepared to meet Sir William Hearst with a view to making a pronouncement as to the date when liquor may be imported into the Province following the ratification of the Peace Treaty, he said: "I would be pleased to meet Sir William at any time and discuss the point."

Concerning prohibition generally, he said: "I agree with Sir William Hearst that the recent vote was a victory for prohibition. The U. F. O. as a party, and I as an individual, are strong prohibitionists, but even this circumstance will not permit us to exceed the will of the people as they express it."

NO CLASS LEGISLATION.

The U. F. O. chieftain felt called upon to explain the position of Mr. H. Mills, the future Minister of Mines. "There has been some comment," he said, "that Mr. Mills' appointment may militate against the interests of the financial interests connected with the mining industry of the Province. Let me say that this view is entirely erroneous. Mr. Mills has accepted the responsibility with the firm purpose of administering his duties in the broadest spirit. There will be no attempt to legislate in the interest of any one class. Mr. Mills will concern himself merely with the question of the development of the mines. Should labor disputes arise these would be, as a matter of course, be dealt with by the Minster of Labor."

Meanwhile the life of the Hearst Administration nears its end. A meeting of the Cabinet was held yesterday afternoon, and it was stated that a final meeting of the Executive Council will be held to-day. Sir Thomas White, former Dominion Minister of Finance, was a caller at Queen's Park, yesterday. He saw Sir William Hearst, but he declined to state the nature of the business that necessitated the call.

ABOUT THE CABINET.

In the new Provincial Cabinet the man around whom most interest centres is, of course, Premier-designate E. C. Drury. He is a real farmer, working a two-hundred-acre farm at Crown Hill, near Barrie. He is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, and has been prominent in farmers' organizations for years. His political affiliations have formerly been Liberal, and he is an out-and-out free trader.

William Folger Nickle, B.A., K.C., is a native of Kingston. He sat as a Conservative in the Legislature in the session of 1908-1911, resigning to go to the House of Commons. His resignation from that body was placed in the hands of the Borden Government in August last. He is an astute Parliamentarian, an able debater, and has earned the reputation of being a vigorous and effective champion of public rights.

Manning Doherty, M.A., (Cornell), is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, and was for a time Associate Professor of National Service at the O. A. C. He has a 200-acre farm in Peel county, where he specializes in livestock. In religion he is a Roman Catholic.

R. H. Grant, of Carleton, is also a farmer, and is said to be the first man Mr. Drury took into his confidence in the formation of the new Cabinet. He spent three years at the University of Toronto. Formerly a Conservative in his political affiliations, he received a majority of 1,000 in the last election.

F. C. Biggs, of Wentworth, is also an O.A.C. graduate, and operates a 400-acre farm. He has had considerable experience in public service in his own county, having been twice elected Warden by acclamation.

Beniah Bowman, of Manitoulin is one of the two U. F. O. members who sat in the last Legislature. He was born in Waterloo county 33 years ago, and at one time worked in the Christie Brown biscuit factory in Toronto. He owns a 100-acre farm at Long Bay, Manitoulin Island.

Walter Rollo, of Hamilton, Leader of the Labor group in the new Legislature, is a broom-maker by trade. He was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1875, and came to Canada in 1882.

Harry Mills, Labor member for Fort William, is an Englishman and a locomotive engineer. For seven years he has been a member of the Fort William Board of Education.

H. C. Nixon, North Brant, is another O. A. C. graduate. He is one of the strongest prohibition advocates in the new House. He has served as Farmers' Institute lecturer. Formerly, his political affiliations were Conservative.

Peter Smith, of Sebringville has been Warden of his county, and was for some years a school teacher. His majority in South Perth was 2,528. He is clerk of his municipality, a Presbyterian and a former Liberal.

Lieut.-Col. D. Carmichael, D. S. O., M. C., who is expected to represent the soldiers' interests in the Cabinet, is a farmer, who saw four years of service at the front. While in service he secured wide experience in road construction and planning. He defeated Hon. I. B. Lucas in Centre Grey. While he will not at present be vested with a portfolio, it is understood that he will be appointed to the Hydro-electric Power Commission. It is rumored that the Colonel is Sir Adam Beck's choice for membership on the Commission.

CLOSEST FRIEND HOLDS HOME SEAT.

Kingston, Nov. 12.—It is stated that in the event of W. F. Nickle accepting the post of Attorney General in the Drury Cabinet he might secure the Kingston seat by the retirement of Hon. Dr. A. E. Ross, who would be quite willing to retire from politics if he could aid his closest friend. Hon. Mr. Ross was elected by acclamation.

U-BOATS CUT CABLE IN 1918

New York, Nov. 12.—Two German submarines cut the cable between this country and England, just outside New York Harbor, in the spring of 1918, but the break was spliced by a small corps of experts within twelve hours.

The fact was made known to-day for the first time by Colonel J. J. Carty, vice-president of the American Telegraph and Telephone Company, in an address at a luncheon of the New York Electrical League. A cable extending from New York to South America was cut the same time and was repaired as quickly. According to Colonel Carty, Germany evidently was discouraged by her failure to interrupt communications, and the exploit was never repeated.

Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before

Not since the pre-Confederation days has the political life of Canada been surcharged with so much uncertainty.

Great events in Canadian politics are about to take place. The reorganizing and rehabilitating of great political parties is in progress. New leaders are appearing.

The order is changing. All things are becoming new.

THE next two years will be a momentous period in the political life of the country. Reconstruction is a greater task than Confederation.

How will you take your place in the affairs of the nation? What opinions will you form? How will you cast your ballot intelligently if you do not keep in touch and inform yourself on the great questions of the day by reading a daily newspaper national in viewpoint and international in scope?

This is the task and responsibility of The Globe—to give all the news, progressive views, and space for opposing opinions. Such was the threefold purpose of George Brown. His ideal was a Great Family Newspaper with a place in every home. That is The Globe's ideal to-day.

It is not a party organ, but a medium for the development of public opinion and an advocate of reform. It is the servant of the people from whose needs it draws its inspiration.

To be informed of the progress of events, you should avail yourself of The Globe's great news gathering organization. For an analysis of these developments, and clear, sober thought upon them, read its editorial discussions from day to day. They are written by close students of economics, politics, industry, commerce, social reform and religion.

And further, what The Globe has been in the past is a sure guarantee of what it will be in the future. The personality and ambitions of its founder ever dominate the activities of its publishers.

Therefore, nothing will be left undone to make The Globe the newspaper that George Brown would have it be and to earn a place for it in every Canadian home.

WELFARE OF THE CHILD IS GREAT ISSUE

Members of Women's Institutes Settle Down to the Problem.

DRURY'S MESSAGE

Body is Worthy of Every Encouragement—Fraternal Greetings.

Toronto, Nov. 13.— Probably there has never been a larger gathering at the first session of the annual convention of the Provincial Institutes than there was seen yesterday afternoon at the Central Technical School, when the large auditorium was filled, many women having to find seats in the gallery.

The report for the year was given by Mr. Geo. A. Putman, superintendant, who stated that there are at least 50,000 homes in the Province better because the Women's Institute has come to the district. In speaking of the seize to which the organization has grown, Mr. Putman said: "Your strength lies not in a big organization, unless it is supported by the sincerity and enthusiasm of the local branches," and went on to show that the influence of the W.I. in provincial and national undertakings will be measured by the influence exerted in their own local work and surroundings. Mr. Putman touched upon the chief branches of the work undertaken by the women of the institutes, along the lines of health, food child-welfare work, the housing problem, girls' work and community undertakings. In speaking especially of the need for conservation of child life, Mr. Putman said statistics showed that 6,000,000 out of 20,000,000 children in the United States are suffering from malnutrition, and he urged the women to make it a campaign that every child in Ontario got sufficient milk, and milk produced under proper sanitary conditions.

Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman brought greetings from British Columbia which she stated is nearly the smallest child in the Institute. In giving the greetings from the women of Great Britain, Mrs. Alfred Watt paid a tribute to the hospitality of Toronto, to which city she might almost claim to belong, having spent all her girlhood at the University in the early days when it was the beginning of things.

Mrs. Watt told again of Her Majesty, Queen Mary's interest in institute work, and how she had been called to address a meeting at Sandringham, which the Queen herself attended, although within a week of the burial of her little son, Prince John. The Queen was elected president of this branch in England, an unprecedented event surely in the history of a reigning monarch.

Mrs. Watt came back to Canada with authority to affiliate the Women's Institutes of England and Wales with those of Canada, and such an alliance was arranged by the Federated Women's Institutes this week. She was also asked to link together individual institutes of both countries which might have special interests in common. Arrangements of this kind may be made through the Superintendent, Mr. Putnam. Specimens of work from English Women's Institutes and many personal letters were brought by Mrs. Watt. A message was also read from Princess Louise, wife of the late Duke of Argyle, who when Marquis of Lorne was Governor-General of Canada, expressing good wishes.

"I feel that everything should be done to bring the women of England and Canada together," said Mrs. Watt. "We have similar aims, we are an empire bound together for good or ill, and must rise above making individuals represent nations. We must be big enough not to let little personalities of individuals rub us up the wrong way."

Greetings were also given by Miss M. McIsaac, of Alberta; Mrs. D. Watt, of Manitoba; Miss H. McCain, New Brunswick; Miss H. Macdougall, Nova Scotia; Miss S. J. Armstrong, Quebec; Mrs. W. F. Cameron, Saskatchewan.

Quite a number of men were to be seen in the hall during the evening session, and there was some disappointment when it was known that the Premier to be, Mr. E. C. Drury, was not able to be present to deliver the address, for which he was scheduled. Mr. Putnam read the following message from him: "Being familiar with the good work which the Women's Institutes have done, both in war time and under peace conditions, we recognize that they are worthy of every encouragement and the sympathetic co-operation of the Government."

Judge Emily F. Murphy, of Edmonton, emphasized the importance of agriculture, urging the women not only to love the land for what it produces, but also because it is Canada. Think in terms of agriculture, and in this connection see to the text books used in the schools.

"I have noticed that the church and the state are coming very close together," Judge Murphy said. "While we are talking a great deal about the dissolution of the church and state they are beginning spiritually one."

"We are realizing that philanthropy has no place in a healthy community," she went on. "All this change is largely due to the teaching of Christ, the Nazarene, as interpreted by the church."

Judge Murphy urged the women to use the ballot, but not to go to the polls in somebody else's motor. "That's grafting," she asserted. She pointed to the fact that not only have women the power to vote, but to be voted for, and stated that in the Province of Alberta every position is open to a woman from Premier to poundkeeper.

Miss Emily Guest, organizer of Women's Institutes in Scotland, who has just landed in Canada in time for the convention, brought a message from the National Federated Executive Committee of the English Women's Institutes, of greeting and assurance that the Women's Institutes of England would never forget that the Ontario women "forged the first link in a chain that will bind not only the rural women of the Empire, but the women of the world in associattive effort."

Miss Guest told something of her work in Scotland and of the enthusiasm of Old Country women for Canadians.

The delegates were entertained at a dinner at the King Edward Hotel by the city of Toronto, where the Mayor gave them a short address of welcome.

CLEARED RIGA OF BOLSHEVIKI

Letts Drove the German Baltic Army Out

Despite a Desperate Resistance.

Copenhagen, Nov. 12.— The attack of the Lettish forces which cleared Riga of the Bolsheviki and transferred the entire front to the left bank of the Dvina River, began the evening of Nov. 8, according to advices to the Lettish bureau from Riga.

Supported by an allied fleet and Lettish artillery the Letts forced the River Aa near St. Bilderling after desperate resistance by the Germans who fled, abandoning the prisoners and material.

On the night of the 10th, the German resistance was broken on the Riga front and the Dvina bridges, together with the suburb of Eebe Duena fell into the hands of the Letts. The other suburbs on the left bank being taken simultaneously after fierce fighting. The Letts reached Riga-Mitau road, the Germans fleeing toward Mitau leaving many prisoners and heavy and light batteries behind them.

The statement adds that the pursuit of the enemy continues, and that the population of Riga is rejoicing over the victory.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—M. Jemders, who succeeded Karl Ullmann's as Premier of the Lettish Government, is in touch with Soviet Russia, according to the Riga correspondent of the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.

BIG SLUMP IN STOCKS CONTINUES

Heaviest Declines in Last Three Years On New York Markets.

EXCHANGE DROPS

Lowest Point Yet—May Be End of Post-War Inflation.

New York, Nov. 12.—Call money rates continued their wild movements to-day, going to a new high record of 30 per cent., and security prices on the Stock Exchange broke badly in a market which, probably, was the most demoralized since the famous "peace" market of December, 1916. For a time values were slaughtered, losses extending from as much as 30 to more than 60 points being recorded, but at the end of the day there were evidences that the situation was getting in hand, and there was a decidedly more hopeful feeling in financial circles than during the earlier part of the week.

Stock prices were heavy and lower at the opening of the market. News that a special conference between Federal Reserve Board officials and local bankers had been held looking to some curtailment in stock market speculation, had been flashed around the country before the opening hour, and selling orders had poured in from many out-of-town centres, where interest had been taken in securities. As a result brokers were deluged with commissions to dispose of stocks at almost any figure they would bring.

This early selling had begun to slacken when the opening and renewing call money rate was posted at 14 per cent., the same as the renewal rate of the previous day. Almost immediately the rate began to climb. As it rose, stock selling again quickened, and around midday and during the early afternoon prices tumbled badly.

The highly speculative so-called "industrial specialties" suffered most severely. Big blocks of these stocks appeared and sales were made at considerable concessions from previous prices. Breaks between sales of 2 to 3 points became common, and for a time the market was thoroughly demoralized.

SOME LEADERS DOWNWARD.

Chandler Motors, one of the most vulnerable, sold off from above 120 to 90 on a total turnover of about 4,500 shares. General Motors, which were in even worse shape, sold down from 348½ to 280. American Tobacco lost nearly 26 points before the decline was checked, and Associated Oil lost 35 points. Fisher Body lost 23 and Mexican Petroleum broke about as much. Some of the losses were partially recovered before the close, but the net losses in most cases nearly equalled the maximum losses.

The break, coming on top of several days of steady and persistent selling, resulted in declines from the high prices of last week, which ranged anywhere from 30 to 40 points to 126½ points. The extreme loss was the decline of General Motors, which a week ago was quoted at more than $400 a share.

ON OTHER MARKETS, TOO.

The stock market was not the only market to suffer. On the Cotton Exchange trading had to be suspended in the late afternoon after the future operations had gone down the full 200 points allowed for any single day. That market, adversely influenced by unfavorable conditions here, by the upset situation prevailing in the Liverpool market, where speculation has been brought up sharp by the action of the Bank of England in advancing its minimum rate of discount from 5 per cent. to 6 per cent., and by the fear entertained there of another advance in the bank rate, was also heavy at the opening.

After a short-lived rally it continued downward, until shortly before the time for ending business prices fell to the prescribed limit. At the end of the day the cotton market presented the extremely unusual spectacle of closing prices entirely based on offering figures, as the best bids for cotton contracts were well under the limit of 200 points.

The grain and other commodity markets, too, felt the influence of the movement to curb speculation. The unofficial announcement of Tuesday that speculation in foodstuffs would receive attention next week at the meeting of the Federal Reserve Advisory Council at Washington caused some concern to grain operators here, and, according to reports from Chicago, had the same effect there.

NEW LOW EXCHANGE RECORD.

Foreign exchange prices also suffered. Demand sterling broke to a new low record of $4.10 3-4 to the pound, while Italian lire went to $12.85, both new low records.

Bankers who deal in foreign exchange bills said the high money rates here undoubtedly had played a part in bringing about these latest declines, for, it was argued, American bankers who have balances abroad are bringing them back to lend at the high rates, while foreign importers of American goods, who make a practice of borrowing from American banks to finance their purchases, were finding it increasingly difficult to put through their transactions, and were being forced to sell bills on London and the continental centres to raise the necessary funds. All this combined to increase the volume of foreign exchange for sale here. The natural result, bankers said, was for the market to reflect this by falling.

HAVE SOME CONFERENCES.

In the late afternoon there were rumors that the Clearing-house Committee had met to consider the money situation. It also was reported that reconvening the Money Committee had been considered. All these rumors were denied by bankers, but it was admitted some informal conferences had been held, and more, probably, would follow.

It was also admitted that at one time, when call money loaned at 30 per cent., the money market was "out of hand," but it was said this situation had been overcome, and the situation would be much better.

NO FAILURE IN TORONTO SO FAR.

With no panic and surprisingly little anxiety, Toronto stock brokers watched the bottom fall out of the stock market yesterday. It was something which for some time they had seen coming, and as far as could be learned last night no Toronto firms went to the wall.

What the effect of the crash will be on commercial and industrial life is hard to say. Several representative brokers think that it is a sign that prices are about to drop, and that the "H" will drop out of the "H. C. of L." Whether or not we are about to have a hard winter, with much unemployment, brokers last night were unprepared to say.

Mr. J. G. Beaty said last night that the crash was a good thing. It was impossible, he said, that prices could remain forever inflated. It had to come some time, and the sooner it came the sooner the commercial world would be able to readjust itself.

The stock market was the first to feel the change. Mr. Beaty said. Others would feel it later. The banks in the United States had advanced money to very nearly their limit. In the past year ten billion dollars of credit had been extended to new securities in the United States. The banks had eased off on their loans and the crash had come.

Canadian stock markets reflected New York's crash to some extent. Holders of Canadian securities were in some cases forced to liquidate in order to realize funds to secure their marginal holdings on the New York Exchange. This was quite noticeable on the Mining Market, where considerable McIntyre and Hollinger mining shares were thrown onto the market by investors in such stocks as General Motors, which dropped nearly 70 points during the day.

Toronto brokers did not view the situation as being very serious, but were more inclined to look upon it as a healthy readjustment. Practically every Torontonian had been expecting a severe break sooner or later, and on this account brokers expressed little surprise when New York short loan money suddenly jumped to 25 and 30 per cent., and the bottom dropped out of the market.

How is this going to affect the man in the street? Business men last night said that it looked like the beginning of the end of post-war inflation.

Keep the Wheel of Prosperity Spinning

MACHINERY spins and roars in our factories.

Smoke ascends from our foundries and mills. In the fields the threshers hum.

All Canada is alive with the activity of production and distribution.

There's a demand for what we make.

There's a market for what we grow.

The wheel of prosperity is spinning.

But it dosen't turn itself.

We—You and I—must help to keep it turning

The driving force of the wheel of Prosperity is the Victory Loan.

It will keep up the foreign market for our surplus agriculture and industrial products.

It will help finance our National undertakings and expenditures.

It will keep the Wheel of Prosperity turning.

Do you realize what it would mean to have the Wheel of Prosperity slow up and stop?

It would mean loss of employment and agricultural and industrial stagnation. It would result in loss to you and each and every one of us.

So get behind the Victory Loan.

There is only one way to keep the Wheel of Prosperity turning— that is to

CONTROL ALL PARLIAMENTS

U. F. O. Secretary Says This Party's Plan.

Enter Politics in Every Province.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Mr. J. J. Morrison, delegate to the Canadian Council of Agriculture from Ontario, declared to-day that the farmers will not only take an active and aggressive part in Federal politics, but will invade the political ring in every province in Canada.

R. M. Johnson, political secretary of the Saskatchewan organization, submitting his report, stated that a fund of more than 50,000 had been raised by the farmers, and that a definite Federal political organization had been formed to reach cities and towns within a few weeks. Meetings are being arranged at various places, he said, at which it is hoped Hon. T. A. Crerar will speak.

The Manitoba report, submitted by W. R. Wood, secretary, indicated that Federal action had been taken in the districts of Brandon, Neepawa, Provencher, Springfield and other places, but that no provincial organization is in sight. General opinion, he said, favored the Grain Growers' Association promoting and keeping control of the political organization, instead of establishing a separate political machine.

In the Ontario report, submitted by J. J. Morrison, R. W. E. Burnaby and R. H. Halbert, it was pointed out that while there are only 10,000 in the United Farmers of Ontario, the vote in support of their members at the recent election totalled more than 116,000, showing that the election was more than a mere class movement among organized farmers. He estimated that 55 per cent. of the support given farmers was old Conservative backing.

BETTER WAGES TO COAL MINERS

Union Men Not Returning at Old Rate

And Government Speeds Up Conference.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The apparent unwillingness of all union coal miners to return to work at the old pay scale caused Government officials to put forth every effort to-day to bring about immediate negotiation of a new wage agreement.

Secretary Wilson, without waiting for formal acceptance of his offer to mediate the differences, began smoothing the way for the joint conference of miners and operators he has called to meet in Washington on Friday.

Both sides notified the Labor Secretary that they would attend the conference. Spokesmen for the mineworkers said that if the mine-owners came in a spirit of conciliation a new agreement could be framed and ratified by Saturday night. Until an agreement is formally accepted by the Miners' Scale Committee, labor leaders said, there was little hope of full resumption of coal production.

It was because of this possibility, and the steady drain meanwhile on the nation's visible coal supply, that Secretary Wilson undertook to-day to induce some of the miners and operators to see the other fellow's side.

The indicated continued suspension of mining activity in union fields to-day was not a surprise to Government officials, nor accepted as an actual test of the attitude of the miners. Complete distribution of the order cancelling the strike might take some time, it was said. It was felt, however, that a large number of men still might remain out until assured that some of the demands agreed upon in convention, would be granted.

Labor leaders who have frankly admitted that public sentiment was strongly against the strike took comfort to-day from what they described as a seeming change of sentiment, as reflected in newspaper editorials. Messengers to labor headquarters stated that the feeling was growing that the miners were entitled to higher wages.

Secretary Wilson, while declining to discuss the outlook for speedy peace in the coal fields, was greatly encouraged at the readiness of the two sides to meet and make a determined effort to frame a wage scale satisfactory to miners and operators alike. Mr. Wilson was quite hopeful of success, and this feeling was shared by most officials.

FATAL CRASH IN AEROPLANE

Victory Loan Pilot and Passenger Killed.

Wrecked Plane and Bodies Found in Field.

Renfrew, Ont. Nov. 12.—J. F. Munroe, a wealthy and prominent citizen of Pembroke, and Capt. W. H. Dobbin, aviator, of Ottawa, were killed this afternoon about four o'clock near Eganville as the result of an accident to an airplane in which they were flying. The airplane had been engaged to fly from Ottawa over Renfrew County by the Victory Loan Committee to drop literature and otherwise advertise the Loan in Renfrew County. Capt. W. H. Dobbin and Capt. R. M. Smith, of Ottawa, were the aviators. Yesterday afternoon the airplane arrived at Renfrew, and, descending, remained here for the night. This morning Capt. Dobbin took up Mrs. Moffat at Renfrew and flew to Pembroke, leaving Capt. Smith behind. On the return journey, this afternoon, J. F. Munroe accompanied Capt. Dobbin as a passenger.

Mr. Munroe was a wealthy contractor of Pembroke and is well known throughout the Ottawa Valley.

Capt. Smith has gone to Eganville to investigate the accident.

FOUND BODIES IN FIELDS.

Eganville, Ont., Nov. 12.—Harry C. Dobbin, of Ottawa, pilot, formerly of Leaside Camp, Toronto, and his passenger, James F. Munroe, of Pembroke, were both instantly killed when their Victory Loan airplane dashed to the ground in Reeves' Field, and the outskirts of Eganville, at 4 p.m. to-day. Owing to the heavy fog at the time there was no witnesses to the accident, although the machine was plainly heard approaching town, it having left Pembroke about 3.30 p.m., scattering Victory Loan literature on the way, and was seen flying low nearing Eganville.

The bodies of both men were badly bruised about the head and legs, and the machine was completely wrecked. James F. Munroe was a prominent business man of Pembroke, and a former Liberal candidate. Immediately after the accident Dr. James Reeves was on the scene, but the men were dead.

At noon a telephone message from Pembroke said the trip was cancelled until Thursday owing to the heavy mist, but at three o'clock the weather cleared somewhat, and they decided to come ahead. The distance from Pembroke to Eganville is 25 miles

Harry Dobbin and his twin-brother Ted, who are natives of Moose Jaw, Sask., have been engaged in an airplane company enterprise in the capital, and has met with much success. Both had seen service overseas, and had been sent back as "stunt" instructors at Armour Heights, Toronto.

SLICK THEFT FROM TOURISTS

New York, Nov. 12.—The Count and Countess Tos Condes de Arcentales of Madrid, who are spending their honeymoon in Canada and the United States, notified the police to-night that four of their six trunks had been "lost" on their journey here from Montreal, and that the other two had been rifled and refilled with kindling wood. They estimated that clothing and jewelry valued at $35,000 was missing.

IS SURE DEATH

Substitute Booze is Taking Toll in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich. Nov. 12.—Alarmed by the increasing number of Deaths, due to bootleg liquor, Coroner J. W. Rothacher issued a warning to-day against homemade and other substitutes.

Raisin whiskey is a brother of deadly wood alcohol, the Coroner said, while he listed ether whiskey, juniper gin, Jamaica ginger, hair tonics, "drops" and extracts of various kinds under the same head.

Since the first of the year there have been sixteen deaths, according to Wayne county morgue records, due directly to these preparations. In addition, there have been numerous cases of paralysis, insanity and blindness due to liquor substitutes.

As a safety measure, Dr. Rothacher advises avoidance of all this "ersatz." Unless the present craze subsides, the Coroner believes there will be many more victims.

Six of the sixteen victims are listed as having died either of acute or chronic alcoholism. Most of these died through the product of amateur distillers.

The latest victim is John R. Ash, a fifty-year-old street railway employee. He was found sitting against a tree, a smile on his face and a partly-emptied bottle of raisin whiskey by his side.

With regular whiskey at $15 a quart, demand for raisin whiskey has increased to such an extent that there practically is a raisin famine in Detroit. Despite efforts of Government operatives, the various stills are turning this out in great quantities, and peddlers are disposing of it at $5 a quart.

BEEKEEPERS' CONVENTION

Will Ask $30,000 to Fight Diseases.

Directors Named for Ensuing Year.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—A resolution to ask the Provincial Government for a grant of $30,000 to be used for the purpose of combatting foul-brood and other diseases to which bees are subject, was unanimously adopted by the Ontario Beekeepers' Association yesterday afternoon. The discussion of proposed amendments to the foulbrood law will come up to-day.

In a paper on "Experimental Work in Beekeeping," Mr. C. B. Gooderham emphasized the value of a mixed diet for bees during the winter months, consisting of a proportion of the natural food, combined with a larger percentage of pure cane sugar syrup. Dangers from impure syrups and sugars and relative food values were discussed by the convention, following the reading of the paper. Mr. H. W. Jones, dealing with the subject "Feeding and Stimulative Feeding," showed from experiments that sugar syrup made from pure cane sugar served as a good substitute for honey as a winter food, and that the stimulation of the queen between honey flows in early spring caused an increase in the number of bees in a colony.

"Beekeeping in New Ontario" was shown by Mr. Wm. Agar to be a highly-profitable proposition when run on business lines notwithstanding the fact that the district was 400 miles north of Toronto, while the necessity of using business principles and the advisability of serving a term of apprenticeship in all beekeeping was advanced by Mr. R. F. Holterman, Prof. L. Caesar, of the O. A. C., also spoke on the subject of "Spraying and its Relation to Bees."

Directors for the ensuing year were elected as follows: District No. 1, R. E. L. Harkness, Iroquois; No. 2, A. MacTavish, Carleton Place; No. 3, M. B. Holmes, Athens; No. 4, J. Chisholm, Belleville; No. 5, W. W. Webster, Little Britain; No. 6, H. G. Sibbald, Toronto; No. 7, F. W. Kronse, Guelph; No. 8, Jas. Armstrong, Selkirk; No. 9, John Newton, Thamesford; No. 10, Mr. Myers, Stratford; No. 11, E. C. Vance; No. 12, R. J. Houghton.

Music AND Drama

The old-fashioned concert which was held last evening in the S. O. E., under the leadership of Miss Lillie M. W. Peene, A. T. C. M., met with much success, its forerunner, held about three weeks ago in the school room of St. Thomas' Church, having proven that the artists are well worth seeing and hearing. Last evening's concert was held under the joint auspices of St. Thomas' choir, and the 129th Battalion Association, and all the moneys received will be used for the purchase of new gowns for the choristers. The cast harked back to the days of the crinoline and the white wigs, making a very pretty setting for the long-forgotten songs and recitations which were rendered. Misses Mary Earle, Reigar, and McLelland contributed much to the success of the offering, which also included Messrs. J. R. Coome, Bert May, William Logan, C. Green and George White. Miss Jessie Watson, dainty elocutionist, was heartily applauded.

FORSYTH ACADEMY RECITAL.

Pupils of the Forsyth Academy of Music drew a large crowd of people to the Y. W. C. A. Recital Hall last night when a programme of excellent piano, vocal and violin music was rendered besides several selections from young elocutionists. Pupils of Miss Douglas, W. Anderson, Ethel M. Clowes, Muriel E. Goff, Marjorie J. Taft, Myrtle M. Voll, Mrs. Emily Wright, and Martha E. Young took part in this programme.

Miss Emily Sommerville, pupil of Miss Anderson, was the only vocal on the programme. She sang three delightful numbers, including "Values" (Vanderpool), Mae Brahe's "Down Here," and "Come to the Fair," (Martin). Miss Georgina Smyth, a senior pupil of Miss Taft, who is also a singer of considerable merit, contributed Wieniawski's "Valse de Concert" for piano, to the programme.

The following were the young pianists on the programme: Cyril Cole, Gertrude Smithdale, Dorothy Atwell, Norene Wilson, Helen Robertson, Harold Paterson, Isobel Frank; Evelyn Harper.

John Fesuik, Cecil Kennedy, Messrs. F. Chaika and A. Chertkoff were the violinists on the programme. Mr. Robert Charlton and Miss Lois Bartlett gave readings, and a number of little girls gave a comical skit, "The Arithmetic Class," adapted from "Babes in Toyland" under the direction of Miss Young. Little Miss Kathleen Hayter took the leading role, the others were little Misses Betty Griffith, Dorothy Tresham, Doris Stone, Elma Misner, Isabell Kyle, and Francis Hamilton.

"GRAND OPERA IN ENGLISH."

The Golden Gate, famous for its inherent love of opera, and where singers are produced as spontaneously as sunshine opens flowers, has given to the song world a new star — Hana Shimozumi. She appeared on the musical horizon as late as last season, when eminent musical authorities, recognizing her remarkable talent, became interested in her career, which they decree should be devoted to the opera stage.

Hana Shimozumi first saw the light in "the Paradise of the Pacific"—Honolulu—the daughter of Japanese parents. Her schooling began in the islands, where Japanese predominate, and before she had reached the age of eight she was warbling forth her songs with the utmost ease. She became much in demand for concerts and musicals in the Hawaiian capital, and upon several occasions sang for the beloved Queen "Lil" at the Royal palace. With this bemourned ex-ruler Hana became a prime favorite, while the aged sovereign's favorite grandneice, Princess Quananakoa, took a hand in her development. Then Hana's parents, who wisely reached American shores just prior to the ban on Oriental immigration, took up her home in the California metropolis, where Hana pursued her vocal studies.

Miss Shimozumi has just turned twenty-three. As Japanese maidens go, she is handsome, and possesses a gentle, flower-like manner that makes her utterly adorable. She is still simple and natural as a child, and always wears a winning smile. Like her countrymen, she is tiny, though graceful in form and figure, but possessed of a voice of such rare beauty and charm that her hearers at once fold her up in their hearts. Dramatically she is forceful, while she sings in English, French, Italian and Japanese without a trace of foreign accent. Her trills and low notes are said to be exquisite, while there is a plaintive sweetness throughout that is said to hold all enthralled. The Gallo English Opera Co., will open a three day's engagement at the Grand on Monday next, and seats go on sale to-morrow morning.

"BRINGING UP FATHER."

Comedy is the overwhelming ingredient which goes to make up the entertaining play of "Bringing Up Father in Society," which will be the offering at the Grand to-night and for the rest of the week, with the usual matinee Saturday. The piece, which is wedded to bright and snappy music, features, surprises, novelties and other diverting humorous essentials, is based on the popular comics of George McManus. As in former seasons, it is sponsored by Gus Hill, who first saw the possibilities of presenting cartoon plays upon the stage. As a departure from the cut and tried plays of the time-honored brand, this piece should ably drive away workaday cares, the blues and similar maladies without much ado. The cast is large and efficient and includes sixteen pretty and captivating choristers, who know how to sing and dance cleverly, and at the same time wear stunning costumes with becoming grace and modesty.

MARY PICKFORD AT LOEW'S.

Mary Pickford, in the second picture triumph from her own studio, will be the headline attraction at Loew's next week. In "The Hoodlum," screendom's most popular star, is seen in a role entirely new, and one which gives her an opportunity to display her remarkable versatility. "The Hoodlum" has been described as "the picture of a thousand laughs," and those who see the opening showing on Monday next will agree that the title is most appropriate.

The film verson of Burkses Amy—for it was pictured from the book of that name, written by Julie Lippmann—is even more amusing than the original novel. Mary Pickford has the role of a wealthy girl who is suddenly swept into the poorest of living conditions, and a most sordid environment, with serio-tragic results. Imagine what the charming little screen star will do with such a role!

Steering a high-powered automobile down Fifth avenue is not nearly so much fun as showing a pushcart down a tenement street, so Burkses Amy discovers in "The Hoodlum." Landing on sordid Creighton street, snobbish Amy is converted into a crapshooter, a nimble-fingered potatopeeler, the official style setter for the tough girls, and the most kindly humanitarian person in the tenement.

Amy's wealthy grandfather, from his exclusive estate watches with much curiosity his favorite's antics. But the one which startles him most is her attempt to crack his safe one fine night!

MISS STARES' JUNIOR PUPILS.

Miss Gertrude Stares gave a musicale last evening, in her studios, 246 James street south, to bring out a few of her junior pupisl. The relatives and friends greatly enjoyed the programme and social hour afterwards. The programme was as follows:

Piano duet—Festival March. .Rathbun
Misses Marian Johnson and Audrey Warwick.

Song—A May Morning. . . . . . . .Denza
Miss Mary Houghton.

Piano solo—Village Dance, Pennington
Miss Lucy Young.

TRIED SUICIDE

Dundas Girl Took Poison in Detroit.

Detroit, Nov. 12.—Resentful at advice on the pitfalls of a big city, offered by her sister, Miss Reta M. Brown, 19, of Dundas, Ont., took slow poison to-day and is in the Receiving Hospital at the point of death.

Hospital authorities said they could not determine for some hours yet whether or not the girl would recover.

"I told her to watch her ways," said Mrs. Harry Benninger, the girl's older sister. "She grew angry, but I thought it was my place to tell her the truth for she is a country girl and has only been in the city a few days."

Mrs. Bessie Brown, of Dundas, mother of the girl, has been telegraphed for and is expected here to-night.

LATEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Jimmy Wilde's First Bout Will Be With Vogel at Milwaukee

Flyweight Champion Makes Many Friends at New York—Picks Carpentier to Beat Beckett

New York, Nov. 12.—Jimmy Wilde, flyweight champion of the world, unquestionably the smallest, yet doubtless the greatest pugilist ever produced in Great Britain, who arrived here Monday on board the steamship Baltic, was accompanied by Mrs. Wilde, David D. Hughes, his manager, and Benny Wilson, his trainer.

Wilde will box a Milwaukee bantam named Benny Vogel at the Auditorium in the Wisconsin metropolis, the date being December 1, and probably at St. Paul on December 15.

Early in January the Briton will return to New York and begin training for a bout with either Pal Moore or Joe Lynch at the International Sporting Club. The champion's training quarters will be at Madison, N. J., where a friend has a country place with golf courses close at hand. Wilde has become a golf enthusiast.

There is nothing freakish in Wilde's physical construction. He is a well proportioned midget, standing but five feet three inches tall, and, far from being anaemic, as he has been pictured, he appears to be a rugged youngster, red cheeked and vigorous.

Gleason announced that any one wishing to ask questions of the champion could, like Ridley at Manila Bay, "fire when ready." For more than an hour the little chap was bombarded with all manner of questions, which he answered with a rapidity, clearness and good nature that won him the esteem of his listeners.

STONE AND POUNDS MIXED.

When asked about his weight at different periods of his career he said: "I weighed six stone four, when I first began to box," and then realizing that we seldom deal in stones here except in quarters, he added: "Eighty-eight pounds. Queer, isn't it? In England our standard of weight is stones and our money pounds. Here your weight is in pounds and you speak of money as rocks. Yes, I learned that on the way across. But to get back to the question of weight. I was an 88-pounder when I first began to box in 1911-12, and I have averaged about 100 pounds ever since. As I am 27 years of age I doubtless have my complete growth, but until I give up boxing and training I will hardly take on more flesh. I never have weighed more than 103 pounds in any bout and usually much less. I weighed 97½ pounds the night I boxed Pal Moore and 103 against Joe Lynch. Moore was at 116 pounds and Lynch weighed 118 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. I am prepared to concede ten pounds to any boy in America who desires to box with me."

Wilde's knowledge of America is comprehensive enough to preclude any illusions as to Indians armed with tomahawks and scalping knives running amuck in the streets of New York, yet he possibly entertained some apprehension as to the wisdom of bringing valuables to this land of the free. When asked if he had brought his Lonsdale belt with him, he looked a bit startled and then ejaculated:

"Indeed I did not. It is safe in the bank in England. You see, old chap, I couldn't take any chances of having that pinched!"

WILDE LIKES CARPENTIER.

When asked regarding the fistic prowess of Beckett, Wilde declared that the British champion was a two-fisted fighter and a terror when on top. But, strange to say, Wilde does not think Beckett will beat Georges Carpentier when they meet in London on Dec. 4. "Carpentier is in far better condition than reports say he is, and he is a mighty clever boxer. I rather think that he will be returned the winner," said Wilde. This opinion is decidedly interesting, for in this country there is hardly any disposition to grant the French heavyweight a chance with the Briton.

While recognizing the boxing ability of the heavyweights on the other side, Wilde declared that Fred Fulton was the best of the lot. "My, how that man can hit! He is a fine boxer and such a monster. My eye, I would like to be his size!" he declared. The suggestion of a man of Fulton's size, with the boxing skill and courage of Wilde might cause speculation as to what such a combination could do to Jack Dempsey. Speaking of the defeat of Arthur Townley by Fulton, Wilde said: "Townley didn't have a chance, and when he got a few straight lefts to the face and a right hook to the chin he toppled over. He was not completely out, but he said, 'No more.'"

Asked as to his opinion of the Driscoll-Ledoux bout, in which the former featherweight champion was stopped in the sixteenth round, Wilde said: "I pleaded with Jim not to go 20 rounds, but to limit it to 15, fearing that his strength would not carry him further. But he seemed to think he could go the pace. For 15 rounds he overwhelmed Dedoux, and then the veteran's strength deserted him and it was stopped." Wilde spoke interestingly about his own ring experience. When asked if Moore had been his hardest opponent, Wilde laughed. "I really don't remember. So far as Moore was concerned, I never had any trouble, and Lynch did not worry me much. He did hit me once on the side of the face with a stinging blow, but I went right along to the end. Tom Noble once put me down for a count of four, but as I floored him 17 times in the bout I did not feel downcast. I have engaged in 300 ring battles and never was put to sleep. Tancy Lee beat me in 1915, but in 1916 I stopped him."

Sarnia Won From London In Play-Off

Tunnel-Men Now Meet Petrolia For Group Title

Petrolia, Nov. 12.—Sarnia defeated London here to-day in the first game to break a three-cornered tie between themselves and Petrolia. The score was 15 to 9. Sarnia will met Petrolia in London, on Saturday.

London lost the toss and kicked off against a stiff wind from the south which was veering to the east. In the first quarter Sarnia got 6 points by kicks which were carried over by the wind. In the second quarter the wind was blowing across the field and was of no advantage to either team. In the last period the wind was from the north, and Sarnia, by long kicks which were well followed up, won the game. The end of the third quarter was 9 to 6, but the superior condition of the Sarnia team was the downfall of London, in spite of the efforts of the back division.

In the first quarter Sarnia scored three on touchdown from a fumble and three on rouges. In the second quarter Sarnia scored first point, while London scored their first point on a rouge. in the third quarter Sarnia added two points and London, which in this period looked like a winner, made eight on a try secured by Kenerdson, which he failed to convert, and a touchdown from a fumble secured after a 30-yard run by Boyd Fisher.

SARNIA IN BEST CONDITION.

When the last quarter started the wind was blowing from the north and Sarnia followed the same tactics as in the first quarter, and by kicking made six more points, making the final score 15 to 9. The London team showed by their playing that a number of them had not been practicing very hard in the past week.

The feature of the game was the tackling and running of Boyd, Fisher and kicking of Henderson. In the third quarter Geo. Little retired after having the ligaments in his leg badly torn. His place was taken by Dundas. For Sarnia Pollard and Harding were the stars. The line-up:

London — McLean, flying wing; Rose, Cowley and Smith, halves; Henderson, quarter; Digman and Fisher, outside; Duffield and Dyer, middle; Kinsman and Caverhill, inside; Little, Friend and Hogg, scrimmage.

Sarnia — Garvey, flying wing; Smith, Trading and Cole, halves; Cowan, quarter; Hilton and Cameron, outside; Bossenbury and Van Alstyne, middles; Jenkins and Pollard, inside; Gallaway, Fitzgibbon and Smith, scrimmage.

Officials—Smith and Tackaberry (from Toronto).

Jones Was Best Five Pin Bowler

Put on Large Score at Iron Duke Last Evening

Last night at the Iron Duke Bowling Academy, the weekly free for all Five Pin Contest was bowled. The prize, a beautiful pipe, donated by Scales-Roberts was carried off by Paddy Jones, who also had the high single score of the evening which was 279. The following three were high men with the respective scores:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Jones | 165 | 164 | 203 | 213 | 279—1024 |
| Kingan | 197 | 150 | 128 | 175 | 180— 830 |
| Anderson | 97 | 178 | 203 | 164 | 139— 781 |

Hill Runs One Mile in Fast Time

English Runner Covers Distance in 4.16 4-5

London, Nov. 12.—One of the English runners expected to shine in the Olympic games is A. G. Hill, of the London Polytechnic Harriers, who in the recent sports of the Celtic Football Club at Glasgow finished second in the one-mile race, covering the distance in 4.16 4-5. He was scratch man.

The performance beat Fred Bacon's Scottish record of 4.18 1-5, made at Powderhall in 1894, and equals the British mark for the distance by amateurs.

Vic. Curlers Held Annual On Monday

Thos. Patterson Elected Pres.---Ladies' Club to be Formed

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the Victoria Curling Club was held on Monday evening in their club rooms, this being their annual meeting. The treasurer's report was very favorably received, showing a very neat balance carried over from last season, and the secretary's report showed a very large membership to start with, and fourteen new applications were received.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Honorary President—Mr. Jas. Dixon.

President—Mr. Thomas Patterson.

Vice-President—Mr. F. L. Thurston.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. D. R. Gibson.

Executive Board—Messrs. W. M. Brandon, H. Crosthwaite, P. Smith., C. T. Hay and Thos. Cook.

Auditors—Messrs. F. W. Gayfer and H. O'Heir.

Representatives to Ontario Curling Association—Mr. A. M. Cunningham; alternate, Mr. P. Smith.

Stewards—Messrs. F. Small and H. O'Heir.

Games Committee—Messrs. J. A. Torrance, F. W. Gayfer and F. L. Thurston.

Steps are about to be taken to encourage the formation of a Ladies' Curling Club in connection with the Ladies' Curling Association of Ontario. Already there are ladies' curling clubs in Kingston, Peterboro, Toronto and other places, which have had in the past very successful bonspiels, and wherever the game has been taken up by the ladies their interest has been keen and interesting.

Knocking Down the Ten Pins

Last night at the Brunswick Alleys, in the International Harvester League, the Tool Room whitewashed the Box Dept., and the Machine Shop grabbed two from the Sales Dept. The Iron House took two games from the Warehouse, and the Knife and Bar won two from the Wood Shop, and rolled a dead heat in the last game. This game will be rolled off next week. Solum was high for the night with 569. J. Bentley was right behind him with 567.

NOTES.

The boys all admired the graceful movements of C. McBride, J. Carroll and E. Armstrong at the alleys last night, they just came from their second dancing lesson.

There will be another marathon next Saturday afternoon, starting at 2 p. m.

Saturday, Nov. 22nd, will be the first home game for the Hamilton team in the Inter-City League. They will roll Toronto.

Cannefax Won

Cleveland, O., Nov. 12.—R. L. Cannefax, of New York, defeated Jess Lean, of Cincinnati, 50 to 44, in 56 innings in to-day's play of the three-cushion billiard championship tournament. Cannefax had a high run of seven.

Charles McCourt of Cleveland won from Tiff Denton, of Kansas City, 50 to 33, in 46 innings, in the other game on the afternoon programme. Denton had a high run of 7.

Eber and Atkins May Meet Here Nov. 21

Hugh Hayes, matchmaker for the Grand Army of Canada in Hamilton, announced this morning that Bobby Eber, now a resident of Detroit, had written him asking for a bout with Dick Atkins, of Toronto, and an effort is being made to bring the boys together. Loew's Theatre has been secured, and if Atkins is agreeable the fight will be staged there one week from Friday night.

Sporting Comment

Hamilton is in danger of losing another hockey player before many days have passed if a story circulated this morning by one who professes to be in the know is true. The player now under suspicion played grand hockey for Tigers, last winter, but he has been accused of holding up a game in Toronto one night and O. H. A. officials are investigating the charge. Should the charge be proven and he is added to the Roach, McCarthy list Hamilton had best enter an intermediate team if they wish to make any kind of a showing.

Sniff, Sniff, Zewie. Sleigh bells in the summer time. First we get a report about an independant hockey league and then comes the information that Jimmy Wilde may box in Hamilton next week. Will some one please advance the information as to where the same brand of tobacco can be purchased.

"Pat Moran was bound to have a champion ball club because he knew how to develop his pitching staff," said Frank Chance the other day. "When Moran was one of my catchers he successfully coached Mordecai Brown, Orvy Overall, Ed Reulbach and Jack Pfeister, the Club's star pitchers in those days. Those fellows were as green as grass when they first joined the Cubs, but Moran taught them everything, principally control.

"The wonderful work of the Cincinnati pitchers during the National League race and the world's series with the White Sox didn't surprise me. Moran showed them how to control the ball and also had a good line on the opposing hitters. I consider Moran in the same class with former champion managers, including John McGraw, Bill Carrigan, Connie Mack and Ned Hanlon, who, in my opinion, stood alone.

When Miller Huggins, the Yankees' leader, was here the other day he expressed some doubt as to the willingness of Frank Baker to return to the game next year. At the end of the Yankees' recent season Baker made the usual announcement that he would retire for all time, explaining that he was tired of the sport, particularly travelling on the road. But as soon as Baker arrived in Maryland he joined a team of barnstormers and proceeded to pick up a few stray dollars by playing three or four games a week.

When Baker was a member of the Athletics he "retired" annually, only to come back with a higher salary which he compelled Connie Mack to pay. Since becoming a Yankee the Trappe mauler has pursued the same tactics with equal success. Perhaps, therefore, Baker can be induced to play third base for the Yankees again in spite of his desire to "quite the game."

Collegiate To Meet St. Mikes Here Saturday

St. Michael's College football team, winners of the Toronto Interscholastic group of the O.R.F.U. and the local Collegiate team will clash at the H. A.A.A. grounds in the semi-final on Saturday. This will be the first of home and home games, points to count. The second game will be played in Toronto on Saturday, at 2.30. This will be on Saturday, November 22nd.

Tigers Have Received No Word As Yet

Propose Game With Argos For Victory Loan

Toronto, Nov. 13.—"Sep" Dumoulin, the famous Hamilton Tiger player, on behalf of the Victory Loan, attempted to arrange an exhibition game to be played here next Saturday between Argonauts and Tigers. The Double Blue are willing, but owing to the fact that Capitals and T. R. and A. A. are playing at the U. of T. Stadium on that day, it is hardly likely that the exhibition game will materialize. Another meeting betwen Tigers and Argonauts would probably attract one of the largest crowds of the season.

An officer of the Argos stated last night that the promoters of the venture were willing to donate a large share of the gate receipts to Capitals and T. R. and A. A. if they surrendered their rights to the U. of T. Stadium for Saturday.

In case the game is not arranged, Argonauts will hang up their suits for the season. They have had a hard campaign, and several of them, notably Garrett and Munro, are not in fit condition to play again this season.

Tiger officials have received no word about this game.

No Decision In Protest

Beavers Say Stewart and Kelly Are Over Age

No decision was arrived at in the protest lodged against Tigers by the Beaver Football Club, but President Howell announced this morning that the finding would be known late to-day.

Beavers, runners-up in the City Football League, claim that William Stewart and George Kelly are both over the age limit, having berth certificates to back up the statements, and they are also in a position to prove that one of the two men voted in the last election.

Accursed is he who plays with the devil—Schiller.

Three Games in Bird League Last Evening

Storks, Eagles and Wrens the Winners

There was a merry hum around the gymnasium, at the "Y.", last night, when the Bird League took its second flight. In the first game the storks beat the doves, 12-0. The game was hard fought however and the storks had to work for every basket, and the scoring was well distributed amongst the different players. Galloway and Holland each scoring four points Huddock and Shawcroft each scoring two points.

The second game was the rapid fire game of the evening, with feathers flying from start to finish, neither team having any time to sit around on its perch. The first half ended 7-6 in favor of the Owls, but in the second half the Eagles came back strong, and nosed a victory out by 3 points, the final score being Eagles 16, Owls 13. In this game also the scoring was very evenly divided amongst the different players.

In the game between the Wrens and Hawks, the latter won by default, a team was picked up however to give them a game.

The league standing:

| | Won | Lost |
|---|---|---|
| Eagles | 1 | 1 |
| Owls | 1 | 1 |
| Storks | 2 | 0 |
| Doves | 0 | 2 |
| Wrens | 1 | 1 |
| Hawks | 1 | 1 |

Course For Road Race Is Changed

Because of the congested condition of James street, on Saturday, it has been decided to change the course of the road race to be held this Saturday, to John street, instead of James. This will make little difference as far as the distance is concerned. And the Chief of Police has consented to do all he can to help the race along, if run on this course. The other part of the course will be the same as previously announced.

Full particulars of the race will be in to-morrow's papers.

Rumor Had Jack Dempsey Killed in Auto Accident

New York, Nov. 12.—A wild rumor that Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, had been killed in an automobile accident, the location of which was not given, caused much excitement in sporting circles this evening.

The report seemed to have started somewhere in the White Light district and for several hours telephone inquiries kept sporting editors of the morning papers busy. No details accompanied the report and efforts to locate Dempsey or his manager, Jack Kearns, to-night were unavailing.

No Independent Hockey League For Kitchener

Officials Would Not Even Consider It

Kitchener, Nov. 12.—When the name of Kitchener was mentioned as a possible city to be included in the rival hockey circuit to the O. H. A., a grave mistake was made. The Kitchened Amateur Athletic Association officials were aggravated at the mention of such a possibility.

With material enough to place strong sextette in each of the three series in the O.H.A. this winter, the idea of linking up with an outlaw organization is entirely out of the question, in their minds. The K.A.A.A. assure the public that all their hockey interests are centred in the O.H.A. Kitchener has paid dearly by trying experiments in the years gone by, and are now enjoying the fruits of being properly established as a sport centre which no barnacles of any description attached, and with no skeletons in the family closet.

The players indulged in another workout to-night, disclosing the fact that Otto Soloman, who was forced to retire last year owing to a broken leg, is in good condition and should enjoy his best season this winter.

The senior team will be in good physical condition for the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association games in Toronto this winter. Trushinsky, the younger brother of Frank Trushinsky, who played junior last year, is expected to develop into a star this winter.

Sudbury, Nov. 12.—Sudbury hockeyists feel that they have been unfairly dealt with by the O.H.A. in being grouped with the Northern League, which is to play intermediate hockey, and are making an effort to get a new ruling. A telegram was forwarded to-day to President Campbell, of Cobalt, head of the new Northern League, which has been sanctioned by the O.H.A., asking for further information as to the reason the league has agreed to play intermediate.

Sudbury players are quite willing to play in the Northern League provided that the winners be entitled to enter the elemination for the Allan Cup. With "Shorty" Green, "Red" Green, Charlie Langlois, Boucher, Berthiaume, Rothschild, Kilpatrick, Scully "Ray" Smith, "Wally" Smith, Hennessy, the two Duncans and a host of other fast players, the officials feel that they were entitled to a better consideration than being forced to play intermediate hockey without a chance for higher honors.

The whole affair has a nasty tinge here, and the feeling among the fans and team supporters is anything but favorable toward the action of the O. H. A. Executive.

Lynch Given Verdict Over Pete Herman

New York Boxer Outpoints Bantam Champion

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—Joe Lynch, of New York, outpointed Pete Herman, the bantamweight champion, in six rounds here to-night.

In the first round Lynch appeared over anxious and missed many blows. Herman jabbed and sent left hooks to Lynch's face. There was a lot of clinching and the champion had the better of the round. Lynch got his left to working in the second round and staggered Herman with a hook to the jaw. They were in a clinch at the bell.

Herman took the initiative in the third, landing repeatedly on the New Yorker's face and body. In the next round Lynch drove a hard left to Herman's jaw. He mixed it up with the champion and had the better of the exchange of blows.

In the fifth round Lynch's rushes drove Herman to the ropes and compelled him to hold. The new York boxer rained lefts and rights to the champion's head and body.

Lynch tried hard in the final round to land a knockout blow. Although his nose was bleeding freely from a hard left hook, Lynch rushed Herman and had him holding when the bell ended the bout.

Portland, Me., Nov. 12.—Eugene Brosseau, Canadian middleweight champion, who boxed here last night with George Chip, discovered to-day that one side of his face and his left arm were slightly paralyzed.

A physician who examined him said there was no indication that this was caused by a blow, and expressed the opinion that it resulted from over-exertion.

Will Decide On Saturday

Whether Montreal Will Play For Dominion Honors

(Canadian Press Wire.)

Monreal, Nov. 13.—Montreal A. A. A. rugby players will make the final decision as to the future actions of the Inter-Provincial championship team, according to the announcement of the winged wheel rugby executive following a special meeting at the Peel street clubhouse last night. With this in view, a further meeting will be held on Saturday evening at eight o'clock at which the executive and the members of the team will discuss the advisability of further games.

BRITISH SOCCER RECORD

Compilation of English soccer records shows the Newcastle and Burnley sides at the summit of the First Division, with 19 points each, though the Newcastle team has the edge in goals. West Bromwich has dropped to third place with 18 points. Despite the trouncing received on Saturday last, the Hotspurs still lead the Second Division with a clear two points over Birmingham, the nearest contender. Rangers lead the Scottish League with a six-point edge on Celtic, while Reading has a slight advantage over the Queen's Park side in the Southern body.

Connie Mack Refused Big Offer For Perry

White Sox Would Have Paid $20,000 For Him

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—Because he had been unmercifully scored by Philadelphia fans for selling his former stars, Connie Mack now admits that he refused to dispose of the release of Pitcher Scott Perry to the Chicago White Sox, last summer, for exactly twenty thousand iron men. It was during the Athletics' final series at Comiskey Park that Kid Gleason made this offer, which had no strings attached to it. But Mack, fearing another panning, declined to talk business in spite of the fact that Perry had violated the rules of discipline and was of no earthly use to the Athletics.

Perry subsequently deserted Mack and promptly was suspended without pay. He joined an "outlaw" club at Franklin, Pa., and says that he will play there next season. But it is quietly hinted that Perry will gladly return to the American League if Mack this winter will sell his release to some other club. Will the American League permit this contract jumper to come back in good standing?

HINDENBURG IN BERLIN.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg arrived in the capital to-day and was received with military honors.

He was met at the station by Gen Ludendorff, once his Chief of Staff, and Dr. Karl Helfferich, former Vice-Chancellor.

The Field Marshal had an enthusiastic popular reception, the people singing "Deutschland Uber Alles."

TRAMPS FAR TO CLEAR NAME.

Quebec, Nov. 12.—Tramping his way through musket and forest, across mountains and ridges, over rivers and creeks, walking by forced marches, Joseph Godbout, a sturdy lumberjack of St. Georges, Beauce, but at present foreman in the camps of the John A. Morrison Co., away up in Maine, arrived yesterday evening in Jackman, Maine, for the sole purpose of proving he had nothing to do whatever with a recent murder.

The human heart is often the victim of the sensations of the moment; success intoxicates it to presumption, and disappointments dejects and terrifies it.—Volney.

MARKETS AND FINANCE

BEEF CHEAPEST IN MANY YEARS

First Quality Sold at 15 to 18 Cents.

Poultry Cheaper; Butter Much Higher.

Thursday, Nov. 13.—The very finest in every line of produce, was offered at the market, which was an exceptionally large one, this morning.

The meat market was the best of all. Beef and lamb were most plentyful, and there was an abundant supply of pork. The last mentioned, which was more in evidence than for months past, received a large demand. Beef for the first quality could be had at from 15 to 18 cents, a decrease. No. 2 quality could be had from 10 to 13 cents, the former figure being the lowest in years. Lamb prices were unchanged.

A great many chickens were brought in. A welcome change was noted in the price, some going as low as 25 cents per pound, though in most cases the previous price, 35 cents, held good. There were a few ducks and geese.

There were also a great many apples. Large quantities of them sold by the bushel. Pears were still to be had, though of inferior quality. Potatoes, beets, onions, citron, cauliflower and pumpkins all were plentiful.

Eggs continued to sell at 75 cents to 85 cents, with an upward trend. Butter went at 65 cents for the dairy or at 70 to 75 cents for the creamery.

Metal and Machinery Markets.

Matters are becoming serious for some Canadian concerns which draw their raw material from the United States steel mills. There are various reports in regard to deliveries, and the best of them do not claim much over fifty or sixty per cent; while in other cases the mark is at zero. One large Toronto firm of importers and jobbers stated this week that for the first time in their history they could not find a mill in United States that would take on business for future delivery. Mills that have managed to stay open and operate even on a reduced basis have been swamped with business that will keep them covered for months to come. They become so hoplessly over-booked that their only course is to withdraw from the market for the time being.

There will be a tremendous amount of business piled up against the day when the mills state they are open to take on orders again. Some speculation is indulged in as to whether prices will stay or advance under such conditions. In some ways the war period is being repeated, in that there is a tremendous demand and a limited supply, and without Government control it is easy to see where prices may get a start. Against this it is pointed out that under the present schedule the steel companies are showing good earnings, and any move towards a higher scale would only serve to arouse the agitation of labor leaders for a share of the higher prices. The latter view of the fact seems to be the more likely one. However, there is nothing to hinder prices of material rising after they leave the mills. At present sales are not made on schedules, but on the urgency of the case. Many times it is delivery that is paid for as well as the material. Both plates and sheets were marked up this week.

The machine tool market is very active, and the big problem is the securing of shipments. Rebuilt war machinery is having a good innings in the market now, due to quick shipment and lower prices. One firm keeps a large shop busy rebuilding, and the tools are taken up almost as rapidly as they leave the rebuilding plant.

The scrap metal market is anchored fore and aft at present, and shows little sign of betterment. Speculators who bought in Canada some time ago for resale in United States later are having an anxious time just now, and losses are imminent.—Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News.

MUST BE SOLDIER PARTY.

Prince Rupert, B. C., Nov. 13.—Addressing the local G. W. V. A., Col. C. W. Peck, V. C., gave it as his opinion that if returned men were to get a "square deal" there must be a "soldier party" in the House of Commons.

HELD FOR MURDER.

(Canadian Press Wire.)

Montreal, Nov. 12.—A verdict holding Frank Parrick, Wullis Boyko, Mike Banko and Steve Markou criminally responsible for the death of Pietro Shulham, who was shot and killed during a hold-up in a boarding house on Oct. 28, was returned yesterday by the coroner's jury. Two of the four men are still at large, but Parrick and Boykol were arraigned yesterday before Judge Cusson, and were remanded for voluntary statement until next Tuesday.

LOST LIVES IN STORM.

(Canadian Press Wire.)

Quebec, Nov. 12.—That F. Desjardins and his nephew, lighthousekeepers at Big Island, near Kamouraska, have died in a storm, is the conclusion of the investigators. Their rowboat, with which they used to cross to the mainland for provisions and mail, was found grounded on the beach at Riviere Ouelle.

GRAINS FOLLOW STOCK MARKET

Overselling and Sharp Rallies Probable.

Resumption of Work in Mines Monday.

(Supplied by Tomenson, Forwood & Co., Merchant Bank Bldg.)

Chicago, Nov. 13.—It was the belief among grain traders after the close that so long as the stock and cotton markets continue to show weakness, stop loss selling and general liquidation, grain prices are not expected to do permanently better. The bearish aggressiveness of the majority of local traders on all weak spots is regarded as having a tendency to result in an over sold condition from time to time and sharp rallies are looked for under such conditions. Better weather for husking and shelling corn is reported, and it was claimed that western Iowa was offering corn more freely late in the day. Reports on farmers' offerings in Illinois are mixed, some claiming that they can say they are getting little corn. The car situation was said to be somewhat better.

Oats are showing more strength than the trade in general expected with the weakness in corn and other depressing conditions. Selling pressure came late in the day after buyers had been filled up.

SUMMARY.

In New York banking circles it is felt that trend of money rates recently has had desired affect and now believe the worst phaze of credit situation passed, and conditions will become more stable.

Sir Thomas Lipton's Cold Improves With New Treatment

New York, Nev. 12.—Without ceremony the Shamrock IV., Sir Thomas Lipton's latest challenger for the American's Cup, was launched at James Shewan & Sons' shipyards at the foot of Twenty-seventh street, Brooklyn, at 11.30 o'clock, this morning. Two hundred persons were present.

Immediately after the racing yacht was launched, she was taken in tow by a tug, and proceeded toward Jacob's shipyards, at City Island, where she will be housed for the winter. The boat will be taken out in the spring and prepared for the international yacht races, next summer.

Sir Thomas Lipton, accompanied by Commodore Willard Taylor, the yachtman, arrived at the yards at 10 o'clock. He was asked how his cold was and replied:

"Oh, improving, thank you. The American doctors know how to treat colds. They prescribe a pretty girl's arm around your neck."

"What did this boat cost you?" he was asked.

"I don't know," he replied. "Furthermore, if I did know, it would probably be bad for my health."

FIRESTONE BY-LAW

Barton Council Meets to Pass It.

A special meting of Barton council will be held to-night, for the purpose of giving the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., by-law its third reading. The members will confirm the decision of the ratepayers, which was to give the company a fixed assessment for 20 years. When the by-law has been passed, the township will have disposed of all the business in connection with the big concern, and the next move will be to commence building operations.

SPARE THE STRAP

More Suggestions as to Punishment.

The suggestion to do away with the strap in the schools is forming a topic of lively comment to-day. One parent stated that he had held the same view for years as that advocated by Secretary Foster, of the Board of Education. Another suggestion has been made, in case the first one is not adopted. It is that when it is necessary for a teacher to administer corporal punishment, another teacher should witness the chastisement, so that the unruly pupil will not get more than enough.

WITHIN THE LAW

Drug Store Booze May Become Popular.

Some devotees of the fiery waters claim that they have discovered a more economical manner to secure their favorite liquors than via the old process of $2 per script plus another $2 jolt for the liquor itself. It is claimed that almost any qualified physician will issue a fifty-cent prescription entitling the holder to receive a six-ounce bottle from a drug store.

The advantage claimed in the latter process is the decreased outlay of ready capital. While the amount of joy water is not excessive, it still has the effect of putting one in a decidedly jovial humor. It seems that some drug stores that were once "bone dry" have increased their business considerably by catering to the popular fancy of good goods in small parcels. Asked as to the legality of the traffic, Inspector Sturdy stated that the drug stores are quite within the law.

SIDE CAR ACCIDENT

Two Occupants Taken to the Hospital.

Mrs. Boyd, 221 Ferguson avenue south, and William Phillips sustained injuries which necessitated them being taken to the hospital, and Mrs Boyd escaped injury, when the motorcycle and sidecar in which they were riding, was struck by an auto belonging to the McKay Transfer Co, which Fred Williamson, 128 Charlton avenue east, was driving yesterday.

Mrs. Boyd and Mr. Phillips were thrown out of the sidecar, the woman sustaining scalp wounds and the man a severe cut on the forehead.

The accident occurred at the corner of Main and Strathcona avenue.

NATIONAL CAR

Transfer to American Car Made To-day.

The shareholders of the National Steel Car Co., met this morning, to discuss matters pertaining to the selling of the business to the American Car and Foundry Co., which has taken up all the assets and liabilities of the company. The new owners will take charge of this large plant some time next week. New stock will be issued by the owners and it is thought that it will prove valuable as the plant will be enlarged and brought to the highest state of efficiency.

Sir John Gibson stated this morning that the old shareholders deserved credit for keeping up the National Steel Car Co., for so long a time as it would have been scrapped some time ago if it had not been for their efforts.

G.T.R. STOCK

Ald. Newlands Seeks Return of Money.

Ald. Newlands believes that the nationalizing of the G. T. R. is going to cost Hamilton a penny or two in the way of dividends, interest, etc. He pointed out to-day that Hamilton holds stock to the value of $101,450 in the Hamilton and Northwestern Railway; ordinary stock in the G. T. R. to the value of about $6,400. All of which Ald. Newlands thinks is a tidy investment. Hamilton acquired this stock in 1886 and dividends were paid regularly until about eight years ago when they abruptly ceased.

Ald. Newlands has placed the matter in the hands of City Solicitor F. R. Waddell, K. C., as he feels that Hamilton should either get its back dividends or the equivalent for the stock from the Government.

PAYING WELL

Barton Taxes Double Last Year's Collection.

Besides "doubling up" on Victory Bonds, Barton ratepayers are "doubling up" on taxes, according to Tax Collector David Jepson. He reported to-day that $8,000 of this year's taxes had been collected, compared to $4,000 for last year, which was considered to be good returns. The taxes are slightly higher, and the school assessment is responsible.

ICE CREAM CONES

Branch of Big U. S. Concern Coming Here.

C. W. Kirkpatrick, Industrial Commissioner, announced another industry for Hamilton to-day, it being the Star Cone Company, a Canadian branch of the Maryland Baking Company of Baltimore. The company will make ice cream cones, and has leased the two upper floors of the premises formerly occupied by the Hamilton Brass Foundry, at the corner of James and Colborne streets. Operations will commence just as soon as the equipment, which has been ordered, arrives. About 25 employees will be engaged at the start, but during the coming summer this number will be greatly increased.

FOR FORECLOSURE

And for $7,026 On Mortgage and Interest.

Biggar & Treleaven, acting for John G. Anderson, of Lucknow, Ont., started action to-day against F. A. Cowan carrying on business under the name of the Toronto Sales Co., and also the Valley Crest Lands Co., Limited, for $7,026.87 allegel to be due on a mortgage, and also interest and taxes. The plaintiff also seeks an order for foreclosure. The land on which the mortgage is held is situated in Barton, lot 7, concession 6, which is east of Sherman avenue.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

School Boy Struck and His Leg Broken.

George Clark, 116 Sanford avenue north, reported that yesterday while driving past the Wentworth Street School, a boy, George Luxton, 45 Wilson street, ran in front of his car, and was knocked down. The boy was taken to Dr. Haist's office and then to his home. One of his legs was broken, and his face cut over the mouth.

At the corner of Bay and Barton street syesterday, an auto driven by Charles Carver, was struck by an auto truck, slight damage being done.

Autos, driven by John Hunter, Leeming street, and John Smith, were slightly damaged yesterday .when they collided on Gage avenue north.

F. L. Simmons reported being knocked off his bicycle at the corner of King and James streets last evening by an auto in the charge of [illegible] Harrison.

An auto, driven by George Grube, 170 Victoria avenue south, knocked John G. Martin off his bicycle yesterday. Martin's legs were slightly injured.

$100,000 ADDITION

Will Be Built by the Plow Company.

Further proof of Hamilton's industrial activity was evidenced to-day in the announcement from Building Inspector Whitelock's office that the International Plow Works Company would erect a $100,000 extension to its present large plant. The outlook of the company, it was stated, is such that expansion is necessary.

Other building permits issued to-day were:

J. H. Somerville, brick dwelling on Eastbourne avenue, $5,000.

H. Donald, brick dwelling on Lottridge street, $3,000.

R. Bigrigg, frame dwelling on Argyle avenue, $1,500.

F. B. Wright, alterations and additions to 34 York street, $3,000.

C. D. Hughes, frame dwelling on Argyle avenue, $1,000.

GROCERS OBJECT

To Wholesalers Selling to Employees.

The regular monthly meeting of the Hamilton Retail Grocers' Association was held in the Board of Trade rooms last evening, the second vice-president, J. L. Brown, in the chair. The practice of some of the wholesale trade selling to employees and boarding houses was discussed. The matter will be taken up with the trade and an effort made to patronize houses that do an exclusive wholesale trade. The treasurer, James Main, who will spend the winter in the Bermudas, was presented with a handsome gold-mounted fountain pen, the presentation being made by John Young. A movement is under way for closer cooperation with the retail trade in Toronto, London and Brantford.

GOOD BUSINESS

Barton Now Gets a Share of Fines.

At the last meeting of Barton council the members appointed Chief Clark a special officer for the township, and the result is that the township to-day received $100, a fine paid by one of the residents who was convicted and fined a week ago by Magistrate Fry, of Dundas. This is the first fine to reach the treasurer since 1907. Barton under the old system could not collect the fines its law-breaking citizens paid into court, but when Chief Clark was appointed a special officer, the township was given the right to claim such "pots," and received the first one to-day.

NOT OPEN EVENINGS

Christmas Shopping Must Be Early.

Christmas shoppers buying at the department stores this year will have to transact all their business in the morning and afternoon. The stores will not keep open after 6 o'clock in the evening. This decision was reached this morning at a meeting of the departmental branch of the Board of Trade, held in the Board of Trade rooms. The decision was reached without one dissenting voice, as all heads of department stores know by experience they will sell just as much merchandise in regular shopping hours as they would if they kept open until late in the evening. It was pointed out that if the stores were kept open late, many people would leave their shopping until practically the last minute.

Another benefit which was not overlooked when the decision for closing at regular hours was arrived at was that hundreds of employees of the big departmental stores would have a chance to keep Christmas day as it should be kept, and not be so tired from the Christmas rush as not to enjoy the holiday.

FIRE BRINGS ARCOLINA INTO POLICE COURT

Accused of Arson, Fraud and Perjury, He is Committed.

VIRGINIAN HELD

Is Accused of Revolting Crime as Well as Abduction.

Angelo Arcolina, in whose store at 129 Bay street north, there was a fire a couple of weeks ago, pleaded not guilty in police court, this morning, and elected to be treid in high court on three charges. He was accused of arson, attempting to obtain insurance monies by false pretence, and perjury. He admitted that the declaration made in the insurance company, of loss by fire, was signed by him. Representatives of Lumsden Brothers, James Turner & Company, Fearman & Sons Company and other wholesalers testified that at the time of the fire Arcolina owed them money, amounting in all close on to $1,000. Some of the accounts were two and three months overdue.

William C. Vansickle, insurance agent, testified that he had issued policies amounting to $3,275, on the building and contents of the building where the fire occurred. Part of this was on the furniture, considerable of which was missing when Mr. Vansickle visited the place after the fire.

Mr. Hill, another agent, testified that both Angelo and Joe Arcolina had taken out accident and death insurance with him, for $350. As Joe was injured in the fire, a claim was put in. The day after the fire, Angelo appeared and paid up Joe's policy.

The evidence given by Joe was that Angelo and he had bought the building, a grocery store, later Angelo buying out his cousin's part of the business. On the night of the fire, Angelo locked up the store about 9.30, and Joe went to bed about eleven. The next thing he knew he was carried from the burning building.

Edward Dornan, who rented the building to the Arcolinas, swore that that night he saw the prisoner, his wife and father carrying parcels away from the store.

Robert Griffiths told of seeing the fire, and getting Joe out of the house in a semi-conscious condition.

Assistant Fire Chief James swore that after the fire was extinguished, the bed clothes were found to lead from the beds in the other rooms. There was also a distinct smell of coal oil about the place. Asked if he believed the fire to have been purposely caused, Mr. James replied in the affirmative. Pictures of the bedclothes strewn on the floor were exhibited.

Chief TenEyck corroborated this evidence, further stating there was a distinct odor of coal oil about the bed clothes. Chief TenEyck also interviewed the prisoner after the fire was extinguished, and Arcolina admitted owing money to various people. The fire had started near the refrigerator in the rear of the store, alongside of the refrigerator ther being a five-gallon coal oil tin up-ended, badly burnt, but still smelling of coal oil. In the hallway, beside the store, there was a keg, which apparently had contained more coal oil.

The evidence of the two chiefs were corroborated by Fireman Cunningham.

W. P. Thompson, insurance adjuster, gave evidence that $3,248 was claimed, whereas the itemized loss came to $1,054, plus $537 damage to furniture and effects in the store, and $355 damages to furniture in the house. Mr. Thompson swore that 50 per cent. of the amount claimed for the furniture, would cover the loss, outside the store effects. "He might have lost $1,500 worth in all," said the adjuster. Arcolina was committed for trial.

FOR REVOLTING OFFENCE.

In addition to the charge of abducting Henry M. Smith, Herbert Baylie, a Virginian, was, in police court this morning accused of having committed an obnoxious crime. The boy, thirteen years old, told of going away with Baylie last January 8th, and travelling around the States, until they were taken into custody at Niagara Falls on Sunday, for attempting to cross the border into Canada. The lad also swore that at various times the revolting offence, of which Baylie was accused, was committed against him by Baylie.

Baylie pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried in high court. Prior to the commitment, Charles Morgan, counsel for the defence, withdrew from the case, refusing to proceed further. Baylie was sent up for trial.

THEFT AND BIGAMY.

Fred Presnail reappeared this morning and was committed for trial on a charge of the theft of a walking cane from George West. J. J. Smith gave evidence that the cane, mounted with a miniature ivory carving of a tiger, had been given to him by Presnail as security for a $100 loan. A letter, offering the cane, purporting to have been found by the prisoner at Hill 70, for security, was read in court. Alice West, daughter of the complainant, testified that she had given the cane to Presnail, who was going to have a silver ferrule put on it. At the time the cane was missed, Presnail was staying at the Smith home.

A charge of bigamy has also been recorded against Presnail, but as his first wife is still in the States, no prosecution was proceeded with. He will appear again to-morrow on this charge.

COME FROM TORONTO.

Thomas Magill, who gave his address as Toronto, pleaded not guilty of the theft of a gold watch and $30, the property of Michael Riding, and elected to be tried in high court. At the request of Crown Attorney Washington, he was remanded until Friday, bail of $500 being allowed. Daisy Magill, who was arrested in company with Thomas, was also remanded until Friday, she being charged with stealing from Mrs. Elizabeth Edge.

THREATENED TO SHOOT.

Ten dollars and costs were taxed against Salvatori Fatali, for threatening to shoot Eli Shepperd. Fatali swore that he had been fired from his job by the complainant, and when he wanted his money, he could not get it. So he told Shepperd he'd shoot if the money wasn't forthcoming.

"I'm going to fine him, because these foreigners should not be allowed to attempt to intimidate their employers. There is too much of that kind of thing here," said His Worship.

WANTS HER HUSBAND.

A plea of guilty was entered by Alexander Massecar, West Hamilton, accused of having neglected to provide the neccessaries of life for his wife and children.

"If he will only come back to us, I don't want anything done to him," said Mrs. Massecar, giving testimony, "but I had not seen him until last night, nor had any money from him, since last January. I and my four children were dependent on the city's charity during that time."

Massecar was remanded until further enquiries may be made.

AUTO CASES.

Having dirty numbers on their autos, cost Meakins & Son and Roy J. Quigley, $3 each.

Neglecting to have their auto lights lit, Harry Geiss, Main street west; Daniel Bristol, Cannon street; Charles M. Chadwick, King street east, and George L. Munce, Balsam avenue, were fined $2 each.

John Hall, 93 Barnsdale Boulevard, contributed $5, for speeding.

Failing to have a license for his canine pet, Vacil Bizovy was ordered to contribute a five spot.

John Hollis, 20 Gage avenue south, was assessed $5 for obstructing the street by parking his auto in a restricted area.

Jake Fowbick, 530 Gage avenue north, and Pete Sheridan, 107 Murray sereet, both pleaded guilty to being drunk yesterday. Fines of $20 were imposed.

HAS HER AUTO, TOO

Classy Applicant for Job as Domestic.

Hamilton may be a wonderfully organized labor centre, but Toronto seems to keep just one step ahead of labor demands here. A reecnt resident of Hamilton, an estimable lady, wrote of her troubles to secure a servant girl in Toronto. Amongst the applicants was a splendid-looking specimen of young womanhood. When asked her terms, the pantry queen stated that she would consider an offer of $50 per month, no washing or scrubbing, and with the privilege of every Sunday off, as well as two afternoons per week. The applicant added, as an afterthought, that she would also require space in the garage for her automobile.

When you find that flowers and shrubs will not endure a certain atmosphere, it is a very significant hint to the human creature to remove out of that neighborhood.—Mayhew.

"You know, last night they got into the grocer's, broke into his safe and took $3,000." "He should worry! He'll get that back in a few days."—New York World.

Righted in Time

She went out of the cottage singing gaily. Una followed her into the garden, but no further, as Moya went on to the shore. Moya never used to be flippant, thought Una, perplexedly. She used to be gay, the life of the family, but not flippant, unfeeling.

"Oh, dear, I wish things were different," thought Una, anxiously. But in what way she wanted them to be different she did not know. There was a lack somewhere, she only realized that—something lacking in Moya's and Barry's relationship, and something, too, brooding and gathering, like a rising storm in the home atmosphere that so little a time back was bright with the spirit of holiday.

She saw Barry come up the lane now, with an added sinking of her own spirit, vaguely apprehensive of it knew not what.

"Moya's gone down to the shore," she told him.

"Has she?" he said, listlessly. He leaned his arms on the cottage gate, not even turning his head in the direction of the shore. Of what good was it for Moya to pretend there was nothing wrong between her and her lover, thought Una. High standards of romance or not, Moya and Barry did not come up to the average standard of an engaged couple.

"What are you doing this morning?" went on Barry. "We seem at a loose end. No one went bathing before breakfast. That picnic on the downs which was mooted fell through. There's nothing doing at all to-day. Everybody seems sleepy and dull."

"Then why don't you suggest something to liven us up," was Una's reply to that.

Barry's moody look did not change. "I should be sure to suggest the wrong thing," he muttered. "And when I fall in with other people's suggestions, that's wrong, too. I'm too ready to fall in, too good-natured a chap. By the way, when is that fellow Berkeley going back to town?"

Una looked up. So disconnected a question startled her. What had Guy Berkeley's departure got to do with the dullness or enjoyment of the holiday? Then suddenly a new idea dawned on her. Had Guy Berkeley something to do with this vague atmosphere of unrest and dissatisfaction which surrounded the engaged couple? Was Barry, perchance, jealous of him? Had there even been a quarrel about him? Now Una came to think of it, Moya and Guy were a great deal together. They had struck up a sudden friendship, at which Una had been rather surprised—surprised because Guy was such a grave, deep-thinking man and Moya so heedless a girl. They might have been expected to have little or nothing in common, thought Una. Moya might have been expected to be bored by Guy, and Guy to feel a superior contempt for Moya. Instead, Una had seen them talking earnestly, engrossedly. Of course it was only about Guy's schemes of social welfare. He was an enthusiast about them, but it was strange he made a confidant of Moya, and stranger still she took an interest in such schemes. It was not like Moya, Una told herself, to discuss serious problems of life at all—or not like what she had imagined Moya to be. She was asking herself now whether she had ever quite understood her sister, or whether there was a great deal in Moya to be developed, that had never found expression before?

And the more Una thought, the m[illegible] became her thoughts.

"I don't know when he's returning," [illegible] said. "He needs a long holiday, of course. He's been working too hard. Too hard for years, I think. One can see that just to look at him, and then we don't want him to go yet—we like having him here."

She watched Barry as she spoke. And she saw his face cloud. He laughed abruptly.

"Yes, I know you like him," he said. "You admire him, don't you? He's just the sort of man you would admire."

"I do like him, of course. I think we all admire him. He does so much good work, you see. One can't help but admire it."

Again Barry laughed. "No, naturally," he said. "But it makes a fellow like myself feel pretty small. Comparisons are odious, I know. But I wish there need not be so much comparison between Berkeley and myself."

Una looked at him. "Why should there be?" she asked simply enough. "You're quite different."

"I know that, too," answered Barry, savagely. "And the difference is to my discredit, of course."

"That's nonsense. We all have different work to do in life. Guy's is not yours at all."

"I should expect you to call what I say nonsense," said Barry. "Yes, you always do think so, don't you? But, all the same, a fellow can't lark about with cap and bells all his life. There's something else to do with life."

He turned away abruptly and went off. His last word had astonished Una with their savage earnestness. Whatever did he mean? And why was he so angry because she praised Guy?

That, at any rate, was easy to answer. He felt the comparison between himself and Guy, a seen in Moya's eyes.

"What a pity, what a pity," thought Una. So easily happiness could be wrecked and mistakes made. And then her loving unselfish thoughts ran on: "What can I do? How can I right matters?" And she felt her own helplessness keenly.

"I dare not do anything but look on," she thought. "I've said so much to Moya already—much more than I meant to say. I can do no more. Oh, but happiness is lost so easily, and foolishly. If they could only see it."

But she never thought that there might be things she herself did not see. For love is a labyrinth through which even the golden guiding thread of unselfishness does not always lead to the light.

Meanwhile Moya had turned from the shore, up the cliff path and away across the downs. Her thoughts were perhaps selfish enough just then. Certainly they had none ofthe sweetly-unselfish anxiety of Una.

Moya was fretting against the position she herself had brought about. It is scant comfort to realize that we ourselves are the cause of our own trouble. Moya would have infinitely preferred to blame someone else. Probably she did endeavor to blame Barry. He was such a very poor hand at acting, she told herself indignantly. He might surely throw himself into his part with a little more vigor. If one understood a thing at least one might try to carry it through, so thought Moya obstinately.

Of course people acted very absurdly. They need not look surprised surely if she and Barry chose to walk in opposite directions. Being engaged did not rob one of all liberty of action surely!

It seemed as if Moya's joke and piece of good fun had recoiled on herself. Life was playing a joke at her. The laugh—if laugh there was—was against her.

Even Mrs. Raleigh provided no longer a piquancy in the shape of her opposition. That opposition was diminishing. She had heard something about Guy Berkeley's schemes of philanthropy. Her dream of a wealthy marriage for her daughter, a fashionable life and good social position, was fast vanishing. A philanthropist—one who spent all his money on others, who was content with an insignificant life himself, far from fashion and the world of wealth—was not her idea of a son-in-law. After all, Barry Tresmond, young as he was, and with his way to make, had some prospects. Life was before him. He was not bitten with that eccentric folly that considered one's money was but a trust for others. Mrs. Raleigh's mind was changing in these days. And where Barry Tresmond was concerned it was open to new impressions.

"For dear Mrs. Tresmond's sake," she had told Moya. "Of course, for my part I had hoped you would do better, Moya. I had ambitions for you. I wanted to see you a fashionable leader of society. I should have died content to see you well established in the great world."

And Moya had said nothing. Guy Berkeley had once said he could die content if he had been instrumental in wiping out just one dingy street of slumland, and bringing sun and light and healthy habitation to those dwellers of hopeless poverty. She thought of that as she heard her mother speak.

But as she spoke Mrs. Raleigh had a vision, too, in hr mind. Not a dream of ennobled, beautiful slums, but an imagination of Moya—a fashionable woman, a society leader. With portraits in the society papers, and fashion articles eulogizing her taste in dress, Mrs. Raleigh had a dream of what the future of her pretty young daughter might have been.

She sighed. It was such a pity—foiled by the foolish eccentricity of an impracticable reformer. For Mrs. Raleigh did not doubt Guy was throwing his money away—money that might be of some use in the world if only she had the spending of it.

"A little mad," she had said indulgently, "an amiable crank. He has studied so much, poor fellow, that he has lost grip of real life, and runs his hobby to death. Doing away with the slums, forsooth! As if the poor themselves would like that. That kind of people are never happy away from their own surroundings—what they've always been accustomed to."

Mrs. Raleigh was great on "that kind of people." She gently set them in quite another category to herself. They were diverse, entirely so. Having been used to the slums they would, of course, miss and regret them. She did not follow that line of thought to another conclusion—how Moya, who had never been used to a fashionable life, might not be happy in it. No, "that kind of people" were a law unto themselves. Mrs. Raleigh pitied them, of course. But since the poor ye had always with you, such a state of things must be endured, she would have said. And certainly she made no attempt to alter them.

She had a horror of enthusiasms. They partook of crankiness and eccentricities. They were not at all well-bred. Moderation in all things, she would have said. For she was one of those people who used quotations without digging down to the root of their real meaning at all. And she never thought that the truest moderation is that self-denial which lives for others.

So she turned to the thought of Barry Tresmond with a feeling of relief. And Moya heard her pronouncement, the seal of her approval on their engagement, with corresponding dismay.

Suppose they found it difficult to break off this tie which, begun in pretence, daily deepened now in earnest? Moya had a sensation of shackles fettering her liberty, and far more than that, tightening each moment.

Out on the free down land, the [illegible] breeze in her ears, she drew long dissatisfied breaths. It was all fair enough about her. The corn was being cut in the fields to the right. She could count the sheaves, tall and golden. Against the blue sky and background of that still more blue horizon of sea, the harvest looked indescribably lovely and peaceful. There was scarcely a sound to break the silence, for the harvesters were at their dinner, and under the hot sun all the world seemed resting.

Suddenly Moya heard the sound of a whistle she knew. She frowned. It was Barry's, she knew well. He at any rate seemed careless and contented enough. He was not vexed by problems, nor stung in spirit by a joke which was to have been such a piece of good fun.

CONFESSIONS of a WAR BRIDE

THREE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SIXTH CHAPTER.

Ready for Perils, With Air Fighters as My Allies.

I put the anonymous notes in my bag, and I managed to evade Miss Miller when we changed cars. While she arranged for the transfer of her baggage, I departed in a closed taxi for the hotel. I was to wait for Jim, Jun. Daddy had wired him to meet me.

Jim, Jun., was prepared for the most strenuous adventures, judging from the energy corked up in his massive frame. But he didn't want me to take another step in the one I had in hand, he said, although he had to admit that only a woman could take Babs away from her captors successfully. And—had I any plan?

To be sure I had. I explained it—a wee bit of a scheme worked out from a scrap of paper. I intended to claim a protector in San Jose, a gentleman of great authority. The mere mention of his name would insure my safety. It was a familiar name, "Curtis," spelled in the English way.

I showed Bob the envelope—showed him the stamp of the Berlin stationer—explained that it had been made for Dr. Hamilton Certeis' private correspondence—it was a guarantee of good faith between spies.

"Damn queer how things hook up," said Jim, who likes me because I let him swear without reproof. "To this day I can't believe I saw a ghost at the New York dock."

"Ghost or human, somebody who knows Certeis well is playing on Chrys," I averred, and then I followed with the details of the morning when Berghoff had given Chrys an envelope, the duplicate of the one in my hand.

"Damn funny!" was Jim's comment. "There's only one thing to do—arrest Berghoff. He's yellow. He'll give the whole plot away." Jim jumped to his feet as if to attend to that little job in the instant.

"No, you don't! Sit down, Jimmy-boy. You're just like Bob—always forgetting that we've got to get that child back, first of all."

"But aren't you afraid? I'm scared enough for you, Sis!"

"No, I'm not afraid. If Certeis is living, it is a miracle—one worth finding out. If he is down there, in Mexico, it is for no good to the United States. Isn't that worth finding out, too?"

"Game little girl!" was Jim's comment.

"Certeis will not dare to betray himself to me—if he is alive. As for the others—the natives—see—I have a small fortune with me!" I showed him my purse.

"The best of reasons for your disappearing—you and Babs—forever!" he exclaimed. "For God's sake, throw it up, Jane!"

"No, sir! I'll leave another fortune with you, Jimmy-boy! Handy—to be delivered by airplane—if required. See?"

Jim laughed in spite of his foreboding.

"Trust you to stir things up, Sissy! This border patrol job has been blamed monotonous, lately. It's fortunate that your special San Jose happens to be close to my sector. I take it, the next week will be lively for yours truly."

"Let's hope not. But if I do need you—how am I to let you know?"

Then Jim explained methods of signalling which aviators can read from the air.

Anything large and white spread out on the fields in the vicinity of San Jose, he would regard as an S.O.S. But I must remember that there was only one flat spot near San Jose large enough for a ship to taxi on. Would I please hunt it up.

"And never mind about a code," he said. "Get a pair of sheets and put 'em out to bleach in the sun. I'll get hep."

And he added that I could take it for granted that if any one of his bunch saw any queer kind of a code being demonstrated next to San Jose, they would be right down on the rescue job.

Thus supported by "the handsomest flock of aviators in the air service," I took the train for San Jose.

The Seal Ring.

The seal ring dates back to the days of the Old Testament, and products of the glypic art, as gem engraving was called, were known in the most remote times. In Exodus xxviii., 17-20, mention is made of the following stones, upon which the names of the twelve children of Israel were engraved: The sardius, the topaz, the carbuncle, the emerald, the sapphire, the diamond, the ligure, the agate, the amethyst, beryl, onyx and jasper. In verse two of the same chapter we find mention of the engraving of signets upon the hardest stones. It is believed that the Egyptians instructed the Israelites in the art of stone engraving. The Egyptians used the lapidary's wheel and emery powder and knew the use of the diamond in engraving other hard stones. Among the Assyrian and Babylonian mines were found fine specimens of signets on gems, many of them set in rings.

Wigg—I took her out to supper and the bill came to nearly $50. Wagg—Yet she insists she doesn't eat any more than a bird. Wigg—Well, the ostrich is a bird, you know.

When Appetite Fails And Health Declines Follow This Suggestion

REQUIRES ONLY A COUPLE OF SMALL TABLETS AFTER MEALS TO FIX YOU UP AGAIN.

Every day comes the good news of wonderful cures with Ferrozone.

In Peterboro it worked marvels for Louis Meehan—put him right on his feet—made him entirely well.

"About three years ago," says Mr. Meehan, "I had the Grippe, which left me in a very run-down condition that finally developed into Dyspepsia. I was unable to eat but a few things, and had a craving for acid. I gave up treating with the doctors because they did not help me and on the advice of a friend used Ferrozone. It not only cured me of Dyspepsia and Billousness, but has built up my strength to what it was before I had the Grippe. I can recommend Ferrozone as an ideal restorative."

Ferrozone gives you force, energy, vim.

It strengthens the stomach, cures indigestion, prevents headaches—guarantees good health.

Thousands use Ferrozone—they all feel better; try it yourself—sold in 50c. boxes, six for $2.50, at all dealers or direct from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston Ont.

Russia's Population.

By the latest census taken the total population of Russia three years ago was 178,378,800. The population of some of the largest cities was given as follows: Petrograd, 2,182,190; Moscow, 1,817,100; Odessa, 631,030; Kiev, 626,313; Riga, 558,000. Fourteen other cities in Russia had a population of more than 100,000 each.

| Total for Dominion | | $406,383,888 |

The above totals represent reports from New Brunswick up to Saturday night; from British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Nova Scotia up to Monday night; from the city of Montreal, the Province of Quebec, Prince Edward Island up to Tuesday night, and from Ontario up to Wednesday night.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—With but three more days to go in the big Victory Loan drive, Ontario is well on top of her latest objective of $100,000,000 to be raised in the last week, and yesterday, by reporting $13,475,700, the province passed her original objective of $226,000,000, and thereby won the distinction of being the first province to claim an honor flag. The total to date is nearly $34,000,000 ahead of the corresponding day a year ago, and at the same time Ontario is running strong in her race with the balance of the Dominion.

The total number of units which have reached their combined objectives to date is 32. Nine units passed their official objectives to-day and won the Prince of Wales flag. The outstanding unit to win this honor is the city of Hamilton, under Chairman Geo. C. Coppley, and Organizers P. A. Thomson and J. G. Weir, which, by sending in $987,750 for the day, raised its total of $13,265,600, which represents 102.04 per cent. of its combined objective.

Following is the divisional summary in the district team race:

| | To date. | Per cent. of teams' objective. |
|---|---|---|
| Toronto | $27,783,600 | 69.48 |
| Hamilton | 5,746,600 | 88.41 |

CITIES LEAD THE WAY.

Up to a late hour last night, the Prince of Wales honor flag had been won by 179 places. The number added during the day was 26. With three days of the drive yet to go, the per capita subscriptions in the cities has been brought up to $132.59, while for the balance of the province it is $51.59. Out of the 256,672 applications received to date, 164,894 have been produced in the cities. The figures show that one person in every 6.61 people canvassed in the cities has responded, while the canvassers are meeting a much less ready response in the country, as only one person in each 15.75 canvassed in the rural parts have subscribed.

LOST EMERALD MINE

Worked by Incas, Has Been Re-discovered.

New York—An old emerald mine, supposed to be fabulously rich, once worked by the Incas before the coming of the Spaniards, and buried by them to prevent its falling into the hands of their conquerors, is reported to have been rediscovered in Colombo, South America.

The mine remained lost for centuries. It lingered in tradition under the name of the Chivor mine, and a search for it has gone on intermittently since the days of the Conquistadores. Interest in it was revived in 1815, when another old Inca emerald mine was rediscovered. This is now known as the Muzo-Cosque mine. Millions of dollars worth of emeralds have since been taken from it, and it has become one of the world's great sources of supply for these beautiful gems.

A group of New York capitalists visited Colombia last spring to look over oil lands. They heard the traditions regarding the mine. The romantic story intrigued them. They formed a pool of $100,000 to finance a new search for the lost treasure. The capital was divided into 4,000 shares of $25 each, and some of their friends in New York invested.

Since the organization of the company, searching parties have been out in the wild mountains one hundred miles northeast of Bogota, capital of Colombia, where tradition located the mine. By what lucky accident the old mine was found is not known in this country yet, but a cablegram announcing treasure trove sent the stock of the company of adventurers skyrocketing to $1,000 a share in Wall Street, with none offered for sale.

If the richness of the mine proves equal to the fame tradition has given it, it will pour millions of dollars into the pockets of its owners. Emeralds are scarce, and as they grow scarcer, their popularity as jewels is increasing. Their price has advanced in recent years until carat for carat they are almost as valuable as diamonds.

Denmark's National Flag.

The flag of Denmark, a plain red banner, bearing on it a white cross, is the oldest flag now in existence. For over 300 years both Norway and Sweden were united with Denmark under this flag. In the year 1212 King Waldemar, of Denmark, when leading his troops to battle against the Livonians, saw or thought he saw, a bright light in the form of a cross in the sky. He held this appearance to be a promise of divine aid, and pressed forward to victory. From this time he had the cross placed on the flag of his country and called it the Dannebrog—that is, the strength of Denmark.—Family Herald.

SPECIAL SERVICES

McConnell and Weaver at St. Andrew's.

Last night's meeting at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, showed a larger attendance and an increased interest in the special evangelistic services being held under the leadership of Rev. Thomas McConnell, Irish Evangelist, and Mr. W. W. Weaver director of song. Mr. McConnell's subject was, "Come, for all things are now ready,' ' and he handled it in a most impressive way. A feature of the meetings is the large choir of forty-five voices, which assists in the service of praise. Mr. Weaver, last night sang, "Where is my wandering boy," with good effect. His winning personality has already made for him hosts of friends in St. Andrew's. He and Mr. McConnell make a strong combination.

The special "after school" meetings for girls and boys, being held on Tuesdays and Thursdays, at 4.15, are proving very successful. Mr. McConnell's subject at these meetings are such as prove of absorbing interest to the young, and Mr. Weaver's short catchy choruses which he teaches them are irresistible.
